TARIFF, FARM AID ISSUES

Republican Majority in Both Houses Gives Promise of Smooth Sailing

Washington—(AP)—Farm relief and tariff revision, regarded by many on Capitol hill as legislative twins, have been separated for the time being and their reunion is a matter for speculation.

The two were pried apart with the decision of the house ways and means committee to postpone the writing of a new tariff bill until after congress adjourns so, if farm relief comes this winter, it must travel alone.

Whether a bill to add the farmer will be passed is a question over which Republican leaders are at odds but Chairman McNary of the senate agriculture committee, has put the problem in a position to be acted upon by the introduction of a farm relief measure.

Washington—Opinion has already crystallized in congress on the importance of a special session to be called by the new president. The general attitude toward tariff and farm legislation is that the committee should begin hearings and try to frame measures for passage when the state of the Republic is settled in the senate, as well as the house gives a substantial promise of smooth action.

During the campaign very little was heard about "linking with the tariff" from the Republican side, the criticism being leveled at the Democrats that they might disturb the tariff structure. But the pressure for changing the tariff wall has come from those who think it ought to be raised and this pressure has been irresistible. It is recognized, of course, that those who wanted tariff duties reduced will have to have their timing and that consequently some revision downward will be the price that will have to be paid in order to get higher duties for those industries which are in desperate need of it.

LARGE FAVORABLE GROUP

The fear has been that to open up the whole tariff question would mean a disturbance of business but the Republicans feel they have a real working majority now and, what is more, they can count on some sizeable groups from the Democratic fold. The Democratic platform and nominees went on record in favor of the principle of protection and this will make the next tariff bill less of a partisan matter than it has been before. It will continue to be affected by sectional and local desires but a vote against the Republican tariff merely because it aims to apply the protective principle will not be justified from the opposition party. The final bill on the other hand, might raise the duties too high which would muster votes against it but the outlook today is that the Republicans can raise the tariff considerably and get the measure through.

The determination of the house ways and means committee to begin hearings on the new tariff bill on Jan. 7 next is taken to mean that legislation at the short session will have to wait as the two matters were closely interwoven. Indeed, there is reason to believe that the interests in the east and middle west which wanted a higher tariff found that about the only time they could get it would be when the farmers were getting their special legislation. Congress has every appearance of making the short session a sort of preliminary for the extra session especially in the work of its committees.

King's Infection Is Reported More Serious

NEW COUNCIL BEGINS WORK IN HIS STEAD

Monarch Suffering from
New Attacks in Chest,
Physicians Say

London—(AP)—Letters patent under the great seal in connection with Tuesday's appointment of six counsellors of state have been sealed and Wednesday Queen Mary, the duke of York and Premier Baldwin, members of the commission, signed various documents which had accumulated during King George's illness.

An anxious public learned when a medical bulletin of King George's physicians was issued that his majesty was suffering from renewed activity of the infection in his chest. Previously an improvement in this condition had been reported, but Wednesday's bulletin stated that this was what had caused the disturbing rise in his temperature which was noted Tuesday.

There was a measure of relief to the popular mind, however, in the announcement that there were reasons for hoping that this recrudescence was being moderated and also that the night had been a fairly comfortable one for the king.

BULLETIN INDEFINITE

There was nothing specific in the morning bulletin regarding the king's temperature. Nor was anything said as to how his heart was reacting to the long strains of illness which, it had been strongly reiterated recently, was the vital point upon which the king's chance of recovery from his grave illness rested.

The bulletin was signed by Sir Stanley Hewitt and Lord Dawson of Penn, and read:

"The king has passed a fair night. There are reasons to hope that the recrudescence of the infection which caused the last rise of temperature is being moderated."

The king's duties have been delegated to a council of state consisting of Queen Mary, the prince of Wales, the duke of York, the archbishop of Canterbury, the lord chancellor and Ernie Minister Baldwin.

"The rise in temperature, noted in the afternoon report, persists and the king is rather less comfortable. Otherwise conditions remain unchanged."

LITTLE CHUTE HOME IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

Loss, Estimated at Approximately $3,500, Is Covered by Insurance

Fire of an unknown origin, which started in the ceiling of the second story of a brick building owned by Frank Weyenberg at Little Chute at 7:30 Wednesday morning, resulted in a loss of $3,500, which is entirely covered by insurance. The building is occupied by a saloon and meat market on the first floor and by two families on the second floor. The fire started in the flat of Frank De Bruin. The family of Peter Vandenberg live in the other flat. Most furniture was removed and the water and chemical used by the Little Chute fire department soon put the fire under control.

Smuggling From Canada Biggest Liquor Problem

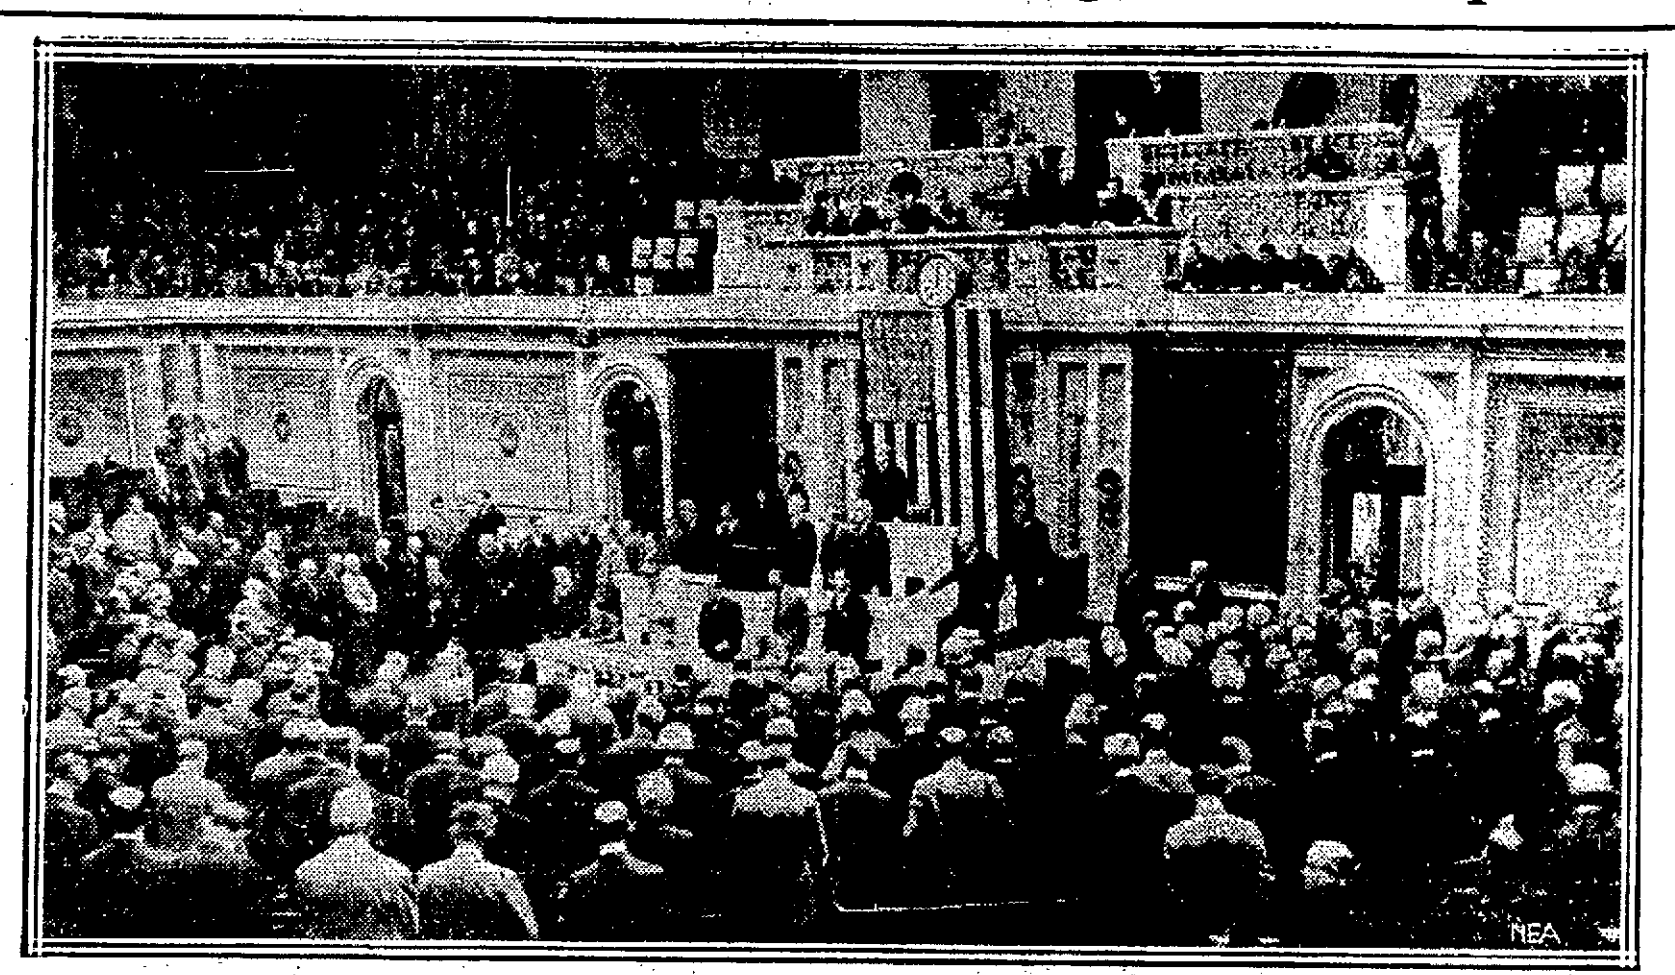

Washington—(AP)—Liquor smuggling over the Canadian border, in the opinion of Prohibition Commissioner Doran, present the most serious problem in dry law enforcement today. To correct it he suggests a revision of the Canadian liquor treaty to prevent Canada from clearing liquor cargoes to this country.

Dr. Doran made this statement Wednesday before a house appropriations subcommittee at hearings on the treasury supply bill.

The commissioner said that notwithstanding the fact that the coast guard has operated to break up near-by rum-runners, there is still a large movement of liquor into the United States from European ports, the French island of St. Pierre, and from some Central American and Mexican ports. The largest quantity, however, he said, comes in from Canada, and seven-eighths of it through the Detroit gateway.

Dr. Doran said the present treaty stipulates merely that Canada not

Kentucky Gambler Missing—

Louisville—(AP)—Ed Alvey, 60, widely known race horseman and gambler, was missing Wednesday and members of his family and close associates expressed belief he had been kidnaped, possibly by racketeers who have "hinted at a ransom of $50,000."

Alvey was last seen early Monday night. Knowledge that he probably had been kidnaped did not reach his wife until Tuesday when an employee of Alvey revealed that he had received a telephone call from a person who asked if he knew Alvey and if he could cash Alvey's check for $50,000.

Detectives have been assigned to the case, although Mrs. Alvey has expressed a desire to comply with the gangster's wishes.

Mrs. Alvey said when she returned home Monday night, she noted the front door was unlocked and that the lights, which usually were left burning in her home, were extinguished. She retired immediately, but frequently during the night was aroused by the telephone which she did not answer.

An employee, she said, came to her home the following morning and informed her that he had received anonymous telephone calls indicating that Alvey may be in the hands of abductors seeking $50,000 ransom.

Adopt New Gas Rate For House Heating Service

New gas rate, known as the house heating service rate, and affecting persons heating their buildings with gas, has been adopted by the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co., according to A. K. Ellis, vice president and general manager.

Under the new rate, the consumption charge is reduced appreciably, while a reservation charge is added to the schedule.

The consumption charge amounts to 85 cents gross or 75 cents net per 1,000 cubic feet for all gas consumed during the month. In addition, the following reservation charge has been fixed: For five rooms, $4 per month; six to eight rooms, inclusive, $5 per month; nine to 12 rooms inclusive, $6 per month; more than 12 rooms, $8 per month.

The minimum monthly net payment made by customers purchasing gas under the foregoing rate is the reservation charge. This does not include payment of the consumption charge for gas actually used.

HOW RATE WORKS
Thus if a home included five rooms, and the monthly gas consumption was 1,000 cubic feet, the bill for the month under the house heating service rate would be $4.85 gross or $4.75 net. Bills are figured on the gross rate, but payment of the bill on or before the last discount date makes the consumer eligible to the net rate.

The net rate for gas for general household purposes follows: For the first 5,000 cubic feet, $1.50 per 1,000; for the next 15,000 cubic feet, $1.35 per 1,000; for the next 30,000 cubic feet, $1.10 per 1,000; all over 100,000 cubic feet, $1.00 per 1,000. The gross rate is 10 cents higher in each instance.

Service for cooking, water heating and other similar household purposes will be furnished under the new rate only when customer has complete gas house heating equipment installed and uses such equipment regularly during the entire heating season for house heating according to Mr. Ellis. The service also must be supplied through one installation of metering equipment.

The house heating service rate went into effect Sept. 1 but the schedule were first announced. Appleton, Neshannock and Menasha are included in the territory to which this rate applies.

NAME DEFENSE LAWYERS IN CULVERT MYSTERY

Milwaukee—(AP)—Attorney Charles Swidler, Milwaukee, is a newly appointed chief of the defense counsel for Donald La Fave, 26, year-old Delavan man, charged with the slaying of the unidentified girl whose body was found stuffed in a culvert near Elkhorn, Aug. 23. Associated with him in the defense will be Arthur J. Moran, of Delavan.

With reference to the party July 10 in La Fave's Lake Delavan cottage, where on that night screams and groans were heard by neighbors, Attorney Swidler said it would be only fair for the individuals who attended that party to tell what they knew.

Having failed to post $10,000 bail, La Fave is in the Walworthen jail at Elkhorn awaiting trial Dec. 12.

Cheers For Hoover In Peru Cities

Welcome to Next President of United States

Lima, Peru—(AP)—President-Elect Hoover, making his second good will visit in South America, entered the city of Lima Wednesday amidst picturesque scenes and a popular welcome seldom if ever accorded any foreign visitor here.

The official sentiments of Peru toward the Hoover visit were expressed in the Plaza Grau at Callao just after Mr. Hoover and his party landed. The Peruvian officials and their guests stood in a pergola in the center of the plaza surrounded by lines of soldiers in full dress and police with thousands of spectators filling the streets all around and attempting to wedge close enough to see the president-elect.

"Your happy arrival in our country is an event which will make an epoch in the pages of continental fraternity," said Foreign Minister Rada Y Gamio.

THREE MORE HUNTERS ARE KILLED IN STATE

Ashland—(AP)—Three hunting fatalities were reported in northern Wisconsin Tuesday, bringing the death toll from the season so far to four.

Frank Pohl, 24, of Glidden, was killed while hunting deer near Mosher, Ashland-co. Officials who investigated the death were told by Emory Mettelke and James Barret, Marshfield hunters, that they had seen a man run as Pohl fell.

Henry Lentje, 44, of Mischicot, near Manitowish, fell mortally wounded, with a bullet in his head, when walking along a trail at Rice Lake, near Mercer, Vilas-co, accompanied by his son and two other men. No trace could be found of the hunter who fired the shot.

Mistaken for a deer, Roy Field, 18, of Templeton, near Waukesha, was shot in the right lung by his cousin, Wilfred Fieldback, Roy died immediately.

A fifth man succumbed to over-exhaustion while trailing a deer. He was Arthur Carroll of Superior, who died Monday night near Dewey.

MELLON SEES ROSY FUTURE FOR COUNTRY

Business for Year Ending
June 30 Was 3 Per Cent
Less Than Year Before

Washington—(AP)—Bantying about sums running into the billions, Secretary Mellon has found that business, which reached a low point in November and December of 1927, finished the fiscal year ending June 30 only 3 per cent below that of the previous 12 months.

In his annual report the financial chief of the administration scans into a 91-page pamphlet a formidable array of figures showing the intricate fiscal operations of the government and dealing in detail with agriculture, customs affairs, taxes, business conditions, prohibition, and a great many other things and with scarcely a note of pessimism for the future.

Agriculture, as a whole, he says, made substantial gains. Automobile production experienced a major turn for the better during the year. Export trade was but slightly under the previous year and imports had but a small decline. As to liquor, he says only about 5,000,000 gallons was identified in foreign ports as presumably destined for the United States against 14,000,000 gallons the previous year.

Incidentally the secretary says that diversion of legal liquor, including industrial alcohol, is no longer the major problem of domestic law enforcement, but that illicit manufacture from sugars and grain is the principal source of supply of the domestic market. The prevention of drug smuggling he believes to have been improved.

BUSINESS RECOVERIES

At the opening of the fiscal year, the secretary says, the volume of business was nearly on a par with the year previous but soon fell off reaching its minimum in the last two months of 1927. In January recovery took place and the monthly volume thereafter was sustained about equal to the monthly volume (thereafter) was sustained about equal to the same months of the previous year.

"There was an increase both in prices and in total cash returns for the crops and products of the year 1927-28 as compared with those of the year 1926-27, this increase representing the net result of gains in home products and losses in others," he says of agriculture. "The average prices received by the farmers during the fiscal year increased

Budget Message

Washington—(AP)—Congress had graphically called to its attention Wednesday that the United States is almost a four billion dollar country. In its first real business meeting of the Coolidge administration, President Coolidge, the annual budget calling for expenditures of $3,780,719,647 during the next fiscal year, and before the membership could open their eyes the treasury and postoffice departments put in joint claims for $1,116,675,339 as their share.

Coincidentally Secretary Mellon handed in his annual report which pictured business at the end of the last fiscal year as only 3 per cent below that of the previous 12 months, despite a drop in November and December of 1927.

The congressional air was murky with figures as the house and senate got down to business, but the voice of President Coolidge for government economy made itself evident to those who would appropriate government funds.

DEFER TREATY ACTION

The senate foreign relations committee decided, to defer for the moment any action of the Kellogg treaty calling on the nations to renounce war. Secretary Kellogg will be asked to give his views. Meanwhile in the senate two demands were made for congressional investigations of the sinking of the British steamer Vesuvius. They were by Senators Jones of Washington, and Wagner of New York.

The budget estimates of President Coolidge leaves the treasury with an estimated $60,576,182 surplus which he declared offered no immediate prospect of further tax reduction.

The estimated surplus, which would be available June 30, 1930, is based upon expected revenue totaling $3,841,295,829. Describing the surplus as small, the president said it was nevertheless "satisfactory as it points to a balanced budget."

Mr. Coolidge warned congress that "it is clear that we cannot assume any great additional expenditure without jeopardizing this favorable outlook."

"We are committed irrevocably to a balanced budget," he said, "and that carries the assurance that only revision of our tax laws which will be considered is a revision downward. We have no immediate prospect of any further reduction in tax rates; but we have no thought of curtailing in any way the benefits which have gone to the people by the four reductions already made in taxes."

OUTLOOK "NOT SO BRIGHT"

Giving an account also of the progress of fiscal affairs for the current year, the president said the outlook for 1929 "is not so bright." Referring to budget estimates that predicted a surplus of $352,540,332 at the close of the fiscal year next June 30, Mr. Coolidge observed that "this forecast has been materially changed." He recalled that the "best estimate" at the beginning of the year envisaged a $34,000,000 deficit and now with the year nearing the halfway mark he declared it "most gratifying" that a surplus of $35,990,192 is in prospect. The president did not detail the factors which had revised the outlook.

The total appropriations recommended by the president to pay for governmental operations during the year beginning next July 1 exceed those in last year's budget by $228,752,815. The largest outlay is for national defense—$548,511,300. For the army and navy, excluding non-military items, the total is compared with $485,000,000 carried in this year's budget and an estimated expenditure for the current year of $472,544,238. The estimated expenditures for national defense next year, the president said, would total $558,277,712 for 1930. The increase is held chiefly due to the fact that surplus supplies left over from the war have been used and it is now necessary to increase the cash provision to replace the reserves.

The next largest item in the budget is for the care of war veterans, expenses under this subdivision being estimated to total $537,375,000 for next year, an increase of $26,871,520 over the estimated cost of this year. Flood control cost is fixed at $31,000,000 for 1929 and the executive

Over Billion Asked By Postoffice, Treasury

Washington—(AP)—A billion dollar appropriation bill greeted the house Wednesday in its first real business session—the treasury and postoffice department joining together in asking congress for $1,116,675,339 to carry on their business during the next fiscal year.

The bill was reported to the house Wednesday by its appropriations committee.

The measure, carrying $23,440,000 for continuing work on 137 federal buildings project heretofore initiated and $13,500,000 for prohibition enforcement—the largest ever to be provided for this work—represented an increase of $20,245,806 over the current appropriation and a decrease of $2,737,370 from the 1929 budget estimates.

The postoffice department would give the bulk of the total, $812,215,725, an increase of $38,906,652 over current appropriations, while the treasury would get $303,459,614, a decrease of $15,744,577.

The figure for prohibition enforcement topped the previous high reached in the fiscal year 1923, when it was $13,320,405, and represented an increase of $70,580 over current funds $77,154 of which was said to be needed to take care of salary increases under the amended classification act.

The bill also would provide $130,000,000 for the refunding of illegally collected taxes, $29,570,171 for the coast guard, $13,300,000 for the airplane contract mail service and $21,415,000 for the collection of customs.

Oneida Indians Press Claims To Recover Tax Money

DENY RIGHT TO COLLECT FROM TRIBES

Committee Securing Affidavits to Prove Evidence of Rights Violation

Oneida Indians are pressing their claims against Brown and Outagamie-co and state of Wisconsin officials for alleged illegal collection of taxes on Indian property, in the reservation, according to a report prepared by William Skenandore, Oneida, chairman of a committee appointed about a year ago by the Indians to see that their claims are recognized.

Letters received by Mr. Skenandore from John E. Edward, assistant secretary of the interior, instruct him to secure affidavits backing up the Indians' claim and he promised that evidence of violation of the rights of Indians either as individuals or as a tribe will be given to the department of justice.

It was indicated in the letter that the federal government will prosecute suits for the Indians in its own name, as their guardians, if it is found that they have been mistreated.

Indian resentment against alleged illegal taxation of Indian lands has been simmering for a number of years but reached a boiling point in August of 1927 when Brown-co officials forcibly ejected Mr. and Mrs. Henry Doxtator from their property for alleged failure to pay taxes. Doxtator, it is charged, was roughly handled and his health has not been good since that time. The Indians hint at irregularities in the proceedings which led up to Doxtator's ejection and are preparing affidavits which will be submitted to the department of the interior.

The Indians base their contention that they are not amenable to the taxation laws of the state and counties on a treaty with the federal government shortly after the Revolutionary war and on the agreement made when the Oneidas were transferred to Wisconsin about 1838.

The agreement, the Indians say, provided that the Indian reservations are not to become parts of the state or counties in which they are located but were to be separate entities under their own government, subject only to the federal government. The relation of the reservation to the state is similar to the relation of the District of Columbia to Virginia and Maryland, it is said.

Because of this arrangement the Indians deny the right of the state and county to levy taxes against their land. But taxes have been assessed against these properties for many years and it now is proposed to institute action against the tax collecting organizations to recover the money that was paid and there also is a statement in Mr. Skenandore's report that criminal prosecution is intended.

The Indians rely on a federal court decision in a case said to be similar to theirs for precedent in their action. This case was tried in the United States court for South Dakota and was affirmed by the United States court of appeals for the Eighth district. These courts held that Indians on reservations are to be considered wards of the government and as such are not bound by state and county laws.

Oneida Indians contend no action has been taken to arbitrate the treaty between them and the federal government and their status with relation to tribal government is the same as it was immediately after the agreement was made.

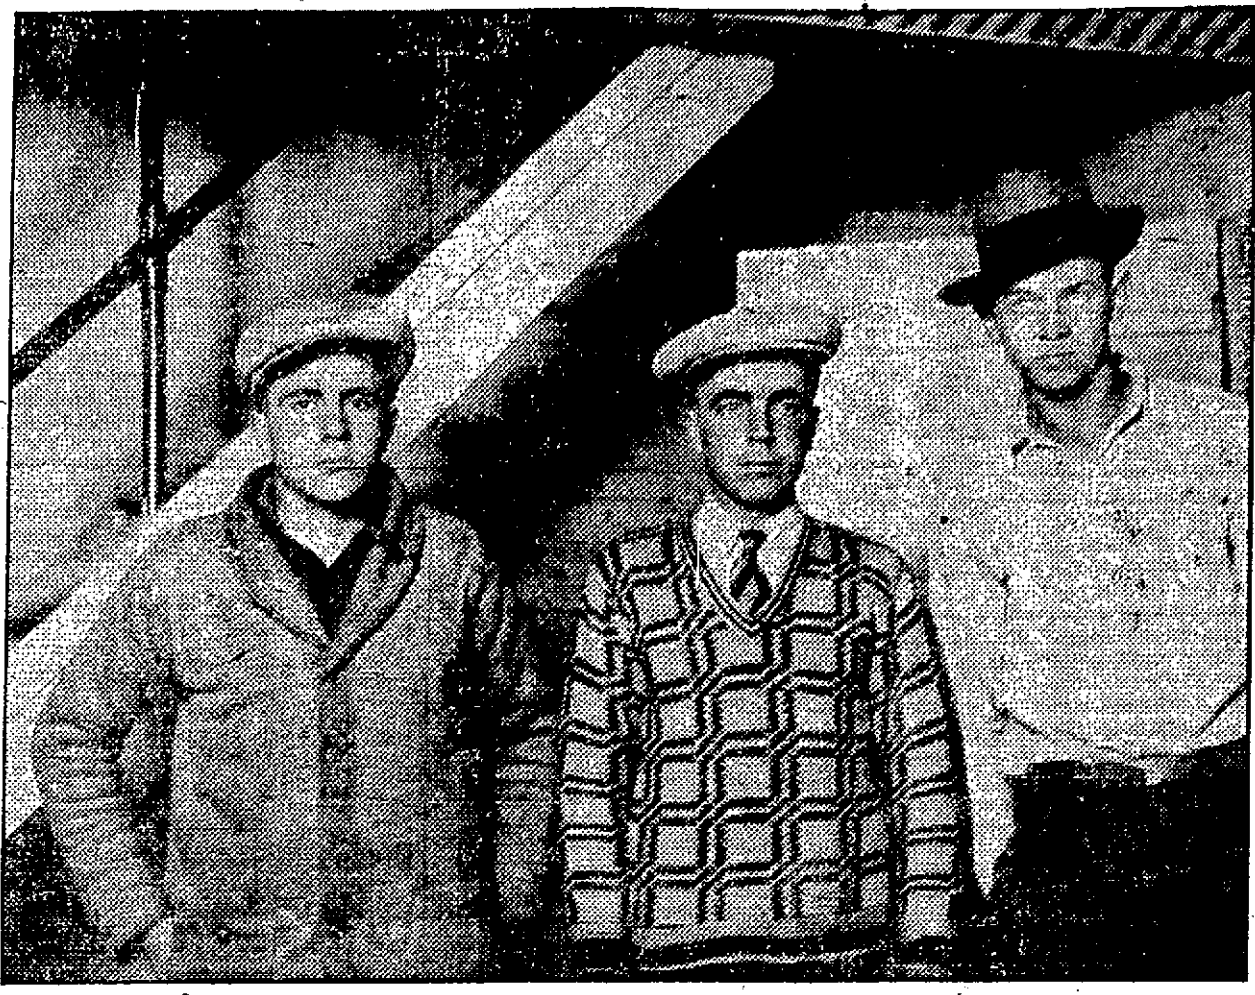

The affidavits which will be submitted to the department of the interior contain references to treatment of individual Indians as well as to the tribe as a whole. If the department of justice decides to press the Indians' claims in the court the attorneys will be employed by the federal government with-out expense to the Indians, it was indicated in Mr. Skenandore's report.

The Indians maintain they have not had the proper cooperation of the United States district attorney's office in Milwaukee in spite of the advice of the interior department that all difficulties of Indians should be placed before the federal prosecutor. The failure of the district attorney to give the expected help led to the appeal to the interior department and to the United States senate which sent a special investigator here last June to discuss the matter with the Oneidas.

4 YOUTHS CHARGED WITH LARCENY TO FACE COURT TODAY

Several of "Gang" Will Be Arraigned on Several Other Charges Also

The four young men held in the county jail in connection with the burglarizing of the Shiocton Hardware store early last Sunday morning are to be arraigned in municipal court before Judge Fred V. Heine-mann Wednesday afternoon. Charges of larceny have been filed against them.

The boys are: Claude Metz, 19, Shiocton, Roscoe Baker, 21, town of Liberty, Earl Wing, 25, and Leo Wing, 18, town of Liberty.

In addition to the charges of larceny the two Wings and Metz also are charged with possession of stolen property and Earl Wing and Metz are charged with the theft of an automobile at Rainbow Gardens last week.

The two Wings and Metz have also been identified as the trio that held up and robbed the soft drink parlor of Earl Dennison at Bear Creek Corners about 2 o'clock Monday morning but as that offense was committed in Waupaca-co they will not be prosecuted here.

Sheriff's authorities Tuesday claimed to have confessions from Leo Wing and Metz, but Metz Wednesday morning denied any part in any of the affairs. Earl Wing has continued, since his arrest about 4 o'clock Monday morning, to protest his innocence.

SUGAR O. K. FOR TEETH, SAYS M.D.

Any and All Food Should Be Brushed From the Teeth After Eating

Who, with any basis of fact, ever said that sugar is harmful to the teeth? An eminent British medical authority recently showed that sugar, perhaps more than any other food, tends to promote the flow of saliva in the mouth, which should be conducive to preserving the teeth in a clean state. He also pointed out that sugar promotes the flow of gastric juice and so is an aid to digestion. Rough foods and fruits are thought to be good for the teeth. How could anyone ever eat them without sugar?

The main thing is to eat a variety of healthful foods and to enjoy them. That's what the teeth are for. Medical authorities are alarmed to day that so many girls and also adults are starving themselves in order to reduce weight. This passing fad, in the opinion of many doctors, has become a serious menace to health, frequently causing injuries that are permanent.

Eat enough nourishing food, and remember that sweetness is nature's perfect flavor. Nothing can take the place of sugar in making the whole meal enjoyable. Eat some citrus fruit—sweetened to taste—at least once a day. Take care of your teeth and enjoy eating. The Sugar Institute.

SUGGEST "GIFT BONDS" FOR HOLIDAY PRESENTS

Madison —(P)—Merchandise certificates or "gift bonds" are useful to the undecided person in solving the problem of what to give at Christmas, according to an article in the holiday number of the Wisconsin Retail Bulletin, issued this week by the University of Wisconsin school of commerce and extension division.

The "gift bond" is an order, signed by the donor, to a certain store to deliver merchandise of any value to the recipient, who can then choose his own present.

Many stores, the article says, actively solicit the "gift bond" business of employees, who are often at a loss to know what to give employees.

Other holiday suggestions in the bulletin relate to the merchandising of toys, of which Wisconsin's share is about $2,250,000 worth annually, to the decoration of stores and shopping districts, and to the advantage both to the customer and to the merchant of listing appropriate gifts for friends and relatives of different ages.

Estimates For Next Year

The estimated receipts and expenditures of the government for the next fiscal year are given in this table:

Chief Items Of Budget

Washington—(AP)—Principal items in the budget for the next fiscal year submitted to congress today by President Coolidge are:

	Estimates Of Appropriations	Appropriation

said that if it should develop that more money was needed a further estimate would be presented to congress.

In his message President Coolidge called attention to the French debt which he observed that on August 1, 1923 amounted to $400,000,000 will mature. These bonds were issued in 1916 and 1917, and their maturity had in France at the close of the war. France also purchased supplies from the army amounting to $7,341,145, which becomes due in 1920 and 1921.

The president said that these amounts were not included in the budget because they were merged in the debt settlement agreement with France of 1926 which planned to extend payment of the French debt over a period of 62 years. If the debt agreement is ratified by France, the president urged that the agreement be approved by the Senate and by congress. If the agreement was not ratified the executive said that money should be applied to retirement of the war debt and not be for the navy next year of $13,905,039 less than the cost of its estimated operation this year. In asking for $349,128,482 for the department the president said that it would have available for additional work $299,000 from the naval supply account. The appropriation will provide for the continuing of the work on naval vessels now under construction, for commencing work on three remaining fleet submarines, for continuing the five year program for development of naval aeronautics and for completion of the dredging of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

441 MILLIONS FOR ARMY

The army is allotted $444,488,222, an increase of $31,959,058. Of the increase $20,000,000 is listed as a deficiency for 1928, leaving an ac-

This is due, the executive said, to automatic advance of officers to higher pay, an increase in the officer strength of the army in order to provide air corps officers, an increase in the amount for the housing program, an increase in the amount for the air corps provided under the five year expansion program and an increase in the amounts required for flood control work on the Mississippi and Sacramento rivers.

"This demands of, this service, while large, have been adequately met," the executive said. "This year program for the army and navy is approaching completion. Provision is made in these estimates for the third year increment of the army and the fourth year increment of the navy, and it is fair assumption that at the end of 1931 the navy will have a well balanced fleet of 1,000 airplanes, while at the end of 1932 the army will be in possession of 1,800 planes in proper proportion as to types.

AIR ACTIVITIES GAIN

"The expansion of air activities, however, is by no means confined to the army and navy. The department of commerce, the coast guard

ment of commerce, the coast guard and the department of agriculture are playing their parts in developing the air as is 'the National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics. THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

President Coolidge's message to congress submits no new proposals and represents no departure from past policies. He asks for authorization of the building of fifteen cruisers, the real reason for which must be to drive home to Great Britain the fact that if we cannot agree with her upon naval disarmament we will outstrip her in construction. Certainly it cannot be regarded as necessary to give impetus to the Kellogg multi-lateral treaty renouncing war. The fifteen cruisers may or may not be built. If England is wise they will not be built. Perhaps it is an effective way to approach disarmament.

Mr. Coolidge recommends the creation of a federal farm board with a revolving fund from the treasury to assist in the orderly marketing of crop surpluses. The idea is the same as that advanced by Mr. Hoover, although it cannot be said whether in its details and extensiveness it would coincide with the program of the president-elect. If it does not action on it should be postponed until a special session, for it is highly important that agriculture shall receive the utmost in legislative assistance from the most expert sources. Unless Mr. Hoover has a hand in the framing of the administration bill for farm relief, we should have our doubt as to its full value. As probably the greatest economist of the nation Mr. Hoover's judgment and views would seem to be desirable in formulating this legislation.

One of the most valuable of the executive recommendations is the enactment of a law to permit railroad consolidations, with a view to making better transportation at less cost to the public. This undoubtedly is one of the country's chief needs in transportation. There is no good and no consistency in attempting to operate numerous small and often competing lines at a loss and with poor service. The whole transportation economy of the nation can be vastly promoted by reorganization and consolidating railroads for their more effective and profitable operation. The duplication, wastefulness and inferiority of a great amount of rail service are appalling.

The president speaks for river and harbor improvements and for waterway and flood control projects which have already been authorized, but opposes new appropriations for the time being. His position on the Boulder Dam project, which he would limit to irrigation, flood control and water supply, leaving the electric power field to private enterprise, as well as his desire to lease Muscle Shoals to private interests for the production of nitrates and power, will meet with vigorous opposition and subject both matters to extreme controversy. It is a characteristic Coolidge message, reflecting both a government and president in which national confidence is fully justified. From the administration point of view, and we think from the viewpoint of the people as indicated in the recent election, it is a sound document all the way through. All of its recommendations ought to receive the serious thought of congress.

THE BRITTEN JUNKET

Prime Minister Baldwin has let Mr. Britten down with an expression of good will toward his disarmament movement that naturally flatters the congressman's pride. There are some who believe that Mr. Britten has pulled off a good stunt and performed a great public service. Their reasoning is that such action was necessary to circumvent the red tape of diplomacy and to awaken a slumbering officialdom of the two countries. Anything which appeals to the imagination as a breaker of precedent is generally hailed as something important.

Much as those who applaud Mr. Britten may chuckle over the discomfiture he has caused the state department at Washington and the foreign office in London, the thought of a party of congressmen sitting in with a party of British M. Ps. to settle the disarmament controversy is not very encouraging. We should say it would be about the last instrumentality that would be very well selected for such an undertaking.

The executive governments of Great Britain and the United States are quite competent to handle disarmament. The difference in their points of view is not to be removed by a congressional junket. Public opinion is making itself felt in England and it will make itself felt in the United States. We think Great Britain is on the defensive in this misunderstanding and that eventually it will recede from the position it has taken. It is not an issue that can be forced, and it probably presents more difficulties than Mr. Britten realizes. It is not at all unlikely that the incoming administration, with a fresh executive who loves action, will be able to maneuver Great Britain and other nations into an acceptance of real disarmament.

ATTACK ON KOHLER IS QUASHED

The supreme court without ceremony has denied the petition of one Fred M. Wiley for a rehearing of the action to bar Governor-elect Walter J. Kohler from taking office. The petitioner was not even favored with reasons why his application was dismissed, which is another way of saying that the action should never have been instituted, for the good and sufficient reason there was no ground on which to base it. The John Doe proceedings at Madison having lapsed into unconsciousness, the political conspiracy to keep Mr. Kohler out of the governorship comes to an end without standing in any of its phases. From the very beginning it had no prospect of success. It is not, however, without its usefulness, for it reveals to the people of Wisconsin the extent to which an entrenched political machine is willing to go to preserve its power and its perquisites.

The methods employed against Mr. Kohler represented the worst form of tyranny and persecution. They were utterly reprehensible from any and every point of view. Those guilty were men who hold themselves up as advocates of government by and for the people, and who assume virtues the ordinary man is not supposed to possess. What they were doing in this campaign was to move heaven and earth to obstruct government by the people and prevent the popular will from being effective.

Mr. Kohler was mercilessly abused, misrepresented and libeled, and when that failed resort was had to the courts to intimidate, harass and defeat him. Mr. Kohler did not commit a single act or make a single statement in the campaign that the most rigorous moral and ethical standards would not approve. The only reason for hounding him from the announcement of his candidacy to the very eve of his inauguration is his independence, fearlessness and success in private life, and the further fact that he is the antithesis of the politician and is a challenge to his domain. Nothing like it has ever been witnessed in the political history of Wisconsin. Mr. Kohler made a singlehanded and clean fight for the governorship against an oligarchy and won. The course adopted by his opponents and detractors ought to open still further the eyes of the people to the brand of politics that has ruled the state in recent years. A political machine, which always hits below the belt cannot in the very nature of things have much of honesty, integrity and high purpose.

The experience of several New London deer hunters in the northern Wisconsin woods should serve as a valuable hint to the state conservation commission. The men camped near likely-looking runways, were all set for the season opening, when along came droves of allured partridges from the far corners of the earth, including Chicago. They talked of the high price of bores, and made merry generally. The deer, as wise deer will, took warning and went away from there. Now, a word to the wise is plenty. To preserve our wild life, the conservation commission should send more hunters into the woods, even if it is necessary to draft them. The next best thing would be to install radios at intervals throughout the hunters' paradise. —Eudolph of the Bayou.

VARICOSE VEINS AND VARICOSE ULCERS

Several items concerning the chemical obliteration of varicose veins have been printed here in recent months. These have aroused considerable interest on the part of readers who happen to be subject to this condition. Many of these readers have asked me to recommend a physician who gives the treatment. I regret I cannot do so. Any good physician anywhere may administer the treatment in his office or at the patient's home. All necessary technical knowledge is accessible to any physician who keeps abreast of the progress of medicine.

It is characteristic and amusing to find that not a few readers who have taken one of these items to their own physicians have met with a rebuff. Material success or popularity spoils some otherwise excellent doctors. They get into a kind of "narrow rut" and worse still they learn to feel complacent in the rut and even take advantage of the natural unsophistication of patients when patients have the temerity to show interest in anything that is not visible from the bottom of the rut.

That has happened in several cases in reference to this comparatively new method of treating varicose veins. Physicians who ought to have better judgment have dismissed their patients' inquiries with a laugh. But these doctors in the rut are probably wishing now that they had climbed out for a moment and looked about them before they turned their patients away so cavalierly.

By this time even the most inept of them must have caught some faint rumor of the increasing popularity of this chemical obliteration thing. Even the workaday medical and surgical periodicals are now publishing reports of the successful cases recorded by hundreds and thousands. One of the pioneers in this work is Dr. H. O. McPheters, Minneapolis, Minn. Recently he reported 354 cases of varicose veins thus treated, and in 65 of these cases there were ulcers besides. Varicose ulcer, a complication in a considerable proportion of cases of varicose veins, occurs because the tissues of the leg are so poorly nourished. It is obstinate and difficult to heal for the same reason. McPheters finds that the attempt to cure the ulcer first and the varicosities afterward is wrong in theory and in practice. He urges that the varicose veins be obliterated by the chemical injections first, and afterward it is easier to bring about healing of the ulcer. He favors the use of supportive bandage, rubber sponge pressure over the ulceration, and judicious skin grafting at the proper time. He declares that all varicose ulcers can be healed if the varicose veins are obliterated by injection treatment, and kept healed. If not, it means that the physician has not located the particular vein which causes the trouble and which is often under the ulcer bed, or else he has not employed the necessary last-in support of the limb.

In the past the successful treatment of varicose ulcer has generally involved irksome rest in bed or at least of the feet, as the only means at the physician's disposal to eliminate the effect of stagnation of blood in the tissues. Dr. McPheters' suggestion to obliterate the varicose vein as a preliminary step in the healing of the ulcer would seem to be a highly practical contribution.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
I Should Say Not
If you were suffering from neu-ritis in the legs as I do you would not call it a "fad." (A Sufferer)

Answer—Even if I were not suffering I would not call neuritis a fad.

Weeping Sins

I noticed an inquiry about weeping sins. You may consider it only a joke, but here's how I cured it. A friend suggested that I rest my hand on my knee and strike the lump on back of wrist a sharp blow with the back of a book. It hurts only an instant. It breaks the sac so that the fluid spreads under the skin. But it ends the trouble, and I am sure this is simpler than an operation. (Mrs. W. A.)

Answer—Thank you. It is an old trick. When I had weeping-sinew I couldn't get up nerve to give it the book treatment. But I know the treatment just as you describe it is often successful. It is not for cowards, however.

Concealing Scars

You gave a formula for concealing scars. I had some made and it was very, very fine. However, I am out of it, and have mislaid the recipe. . . . opportunity to tell you how much I enjoy your column. It is the first thing I read every day. (Mrs. H. V. S.)

Answer—The paint I suggested is primarily intended to conceal white spots in the skin, but it is as useful for painting over any kind of blemish. Mix 1/2 ounce of zinc oxide and 1 1/2 ounces of calamine powder, two teaspoonsful of glycerin, one part of water. To this add, drop by drop, until you get a tint to match the normal skin, ichthyol. Usually not more than 60 drops of ichthyol will be required. Of course this is merely a cosmetic paint.

What is the cause of meningitis, spinal meningitis? E. C. R.

Answer—Meningitis is inflammation of membranes covering brain or spinal cord. It may be caused by any germ infection. But epidemic cerebro-spinal meningitis is caused by a specific diplococcus that seems to be transmitted from one person to another in the nose or throat discharges, much as is diphtheria or scarlet fever.

Adventures In

The Library

By Arnold Mulder

"THE COMING OF THE LORD"

Is Sarah Gertrude Millin writing too fast? The last two or three years she has been turning out novels faster than seems entirely reasonable. Is that why her latest book is not as satisfactory as a work of art as were her earlier books? Is she writing novels now because the publishers insist that she shall meet the demand of her public instead of writing for the love of it?

Her latest book is called "The Coming of the Lord" and it is not by any means negligible as a work of art. It is in many respects a fine novel. In comparison with a large number of novels that are being published it has real distinction. It is only when you begin to compare it with Mrs. Millin's own earlier books that you become conscious of a falling off. Her earlier "Mary Glenn" is in my opinion a great novel, and her still earlier "God's Stepchildren" is also a very remarkable book.

"The Coming of the Lord" is again a story of life in South Africa. The main trouble with it is that it is lacking in that sense of inevitability that constitutes the greatness of the other novels of having been produced in a hothouse—as if Mrs. Millin said to herself, "I must write another novel; what shall I write about this time," instead of having a theme come to her in the slow course of artistic brooding that so fills her with excitement that she cannot rest until the novel has been written.

The details of "The Coming of the Lord" are about as interesting as meticulous in her character drawing, as shrewd in her sense of reality, as sincere in her desire to get the life she describes across to her readers without sentimentalizing it.

It is only the total effect that is disappointing. In the end you get the feeling that the book has been forced instead of having grown naturally and inevitably.

But when everything has been said against the book, it is still a book by a real artist, which means that it is very much worth reading.

Overlooking the heights of the little city of Sibeon in South Africa is the camp of a company of 2,500 fanatics, all colored people led by a "prophet," who take literally the words of the Bible taught them by the white people that the Lord will come in the seventh year. They heretofore follow the biblical instruction to take a year's vacation to wait for the coming of the Lord.

This irritates the whites in the town and they try unsuccessfully to dislodge the negroes by bribery and threats but with no results. They refuse to go home. During the whole action of the story they are a dark threat over the little city and they indirectly motivate everything that happens in the book among the white people.

The action among the whites consists of a "triangle," a young lawyer and a young doctor, the latter a Jew struggling for the love of a woman. The lawyer is the woman's husband and the doctor for a time what almost amounts to her lover. Mixed up with their lives are the lives of an older doctor, of the Jew's father and of various other people. In one way or another the negro fanatics on the heights always have something to do with the lives at crucial moments. In the end the young lawyer and his Vigilantes, while attacking the camp of fanatics, incidentally kill the young Jew doctor and "the triangle" is wiped out.

This solution seems forced and artificial. Also rather useless. It leaves everything at loose ends. The ending is not inevitable. The author has merely arranged it.

But aside from that, there are a great many telling hits in the book. Mrs. Millin knows life. I would rather read a poor book of hers than the best book of some other writers who are far more popular.

AIR MAIL SERVICE CALLED BIG EVENT IN STATE HISTORY

Citizens Should Support Project in Valley, Milwaukee Postmaster Urges

Urging citizens to support the Fox river valley air mail route, which will begin operating on Saturday, Dec. 15, Peter F. Plazcek, postmaster at Milwaukee, in a recent interview declares the establishment of this route is one of the greatest happenings in Wisconsin history.

He says he feels one of the most important features of the establishment of this route is that Fox river valley cities have been selected for a pioneer position on the nation's great air highways.

"Air transportation will undoubtedly play a great part in the commerce of the future and the cities that grow up with it must attribute their added prosperity to the advantage afforded them by their early air lines," he says.

The air mail line, which is to begin operating a week from next Saturday, will be maintained from Milwaukee to Green Bay, a round trip being made daily. Stops are to be made at Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Neenah-Menasha and Appleton, and Green Bay.

Following is Mr. Plazcek's statement:

"I feel that the opening of the Fox river valley air mail route is really one of the greatest happenings in Wisconsin history. This may seem like a rather broad statement, but I am certain that the future will bear me out.

"The facts that are easily apparent are that Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, and Green Bay are joining a direct hook-up with the nation's trunkline transcontinental air mail line, such as Milwaukee already enjoys. By means of this direct connection, it will be possible to send business and social mail on a late afternoon dispatch on an overnight journey, and have next morning delivery in, for instance, New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Louisville, Kansas City, Denver, Colorado Springs, Cheyenne, Omaha, etc., noon delivery in Fort Worth, Dallas, Boston, Galveston, Houston, San Antonio, Salt Lake City, Washington, etc., afternoon delivery in most of the New England State, as well as New York and Pennsylvania cities, and delivery on the second morning after in San Francisco and Los Angeles—providing, of course, that weather conditions will permit. Incidentally, in this connection, the U. S. Air Mail service has achieved the enviable record of 94 percent performance thus far in 1928. The Fox river valley route will connect with the Canadian and Mexican Air Mail service as well.

"What I feel is really the most important feature, however, is that the Fox river valley cities have been selected for a pioneer position on the nation's great air highways, a network of which is being rapidly developed to cover the country. Air transportation will undoubtedly play a very important part in the commerce of the future, and the cities that grow up with it must later at-

97TH ARCHBISHOP ASCENDS THRONE

Church Notables from Several Countries Attend Canterbury Ceremony

Canterbury, England —(AP)—Cosmo Gordon Lang, 97th archbishop of Canterbury and primate of the Established Church of England Tuesday was enthroned in the marble chair of St. Augustine.

The enthronement of the former tributed their added prosperity to the advantage afforded them by their early air lines.

It will take a heavy volume of patronage to justify and make a permanent success of the Fox river valley route. Incidentally, this patronage will most naturally have to come mainly in the shape of air mail. Any city that is content to accept the honor of being selected for a position on the route, and then fail to adequately use it, must expect to lose that honor. The line is being extended because both the post office department and the operating contractor have confidence that the Fox river valley cities are air minded and will make the line pay. If this should not prove the case, and the route dies, it will remain dead for a long, long time.

"Air mail is now so cheap in price that patronage should prove far easier to develop than was formerly the case. I confidentially expect and predict that the Fox river valley route will make good from the very start.

archbishop of York was carried out with medieval, ecclesiastical ceremony and pageantry in the cathedral here.

Canterbury was awakened by a deep-pealing of the city's bells which heralded the ceremony. From ancient inns, which once were hostels for pilgrims, and through narrow streets, modern pilgrims assembled at every entrance of the famous old building whose gray walls were slightly shrouded in a mist.

The great assembly in the cathedral included Bishop Charles H. Brent of Western New York, representing the American church and was eminently Catholic in scope, as for the first time in the long history of Canterbury, representatives of the free churches were invited to join in the prayers for the new head of the English church. Representatives of non-conformist bodies in various European countries were also present.

The archbishop in his enthronement sermon said that as he looked upon the world, he saw a field being everywhere cleared for one supreme conflict between spiritual religion and material civilization which claimed to be self-sufficient. As that civilization advanced, ancient religions crumbled and fell.

How to Walk With Grace

One's walk should be the embodiment of grace, says Doris Niles.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series of six articles on "How to Grow Graceful," written exclusively for NEA Service and The Post-Crescent by Doris Niles, youngest American dancer to head her own ballet organization.

BY DORIS NILES

FOR NEA SERVICE

ONE of the best examples of grace in walking is Queen Victoria of Spain. I have seen her cross a lawn before an immense throng of people whose eyes were fastened on her every movement. That was an ordeal. And yet she seemed to float rather than to walk. The result was the very embodiment of natural, queenly grace.

How did she accomplish it? Simply by applying the principles of the old-fashioned waltz. She stepped on her heel and the balance was carried slowly forward to the toe. There was no jerking, no angularity. Even though the queen were not as lovely a woman as she is, that walk of hers would cause people to catch their breath in admiration.

There are those who, taught too dancing in the studio, follow the same principle in walking in the street. There is nothing worse than to go springing along on the toes, which is both unnatural and ungraceful. The most important rule in walking is to retain the relaxing idea of light freedom of step and of carriage of the body, just as in the old-fashioned waltz, stepping first on the flat of the foot, then on the toe.

To paraphrase an old saying, when self-consciousness comes in at the door, grace flies out of the window. Many a girl who is naturally a graceful walker, if faced by a gazing multitude, would be overcome with fear and timidity. Consequently, she would walk in an ungraceful way of which at any other time she would be utterly incapable.

There is one reliable and only way to avoid such experiences—know the why and wherefore of the proper way to do things. When one is certain of the right way, one does them unconsciously even when, in the first months of an unusual experience, the mind is fluttering from nervousness.

A noted French authority trained his pupils on just this plan for appearing on the concert stage. He had them rehearse over and over what they would do in coming out before the public and in the moment when nerves, affecting the calm working of the mind, would interfere—in other words, when they were self-conscious. Therefore, when surprised or a trying emergency came, they were so firmly grounded in the right way of doing things that they did them instinctively until the mind worked normally.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BREAKFAST—Baked apples, cereal, flizzled dried beef, whole wheat pop-bvcrs, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Creamed chicken in baked potatoes, pickled beets and hearts of celery, almond bars, canned cherries, milk, tea.

DINNER—Broiled sirloin steak, French fries, potatoes, creamed onions, head lettuce with Russian dressing, mixed fruits with custard sauce, milk, coffee.

Chicken left from the roast chicken of the preceding dinner is used for the luncheon dish. If the meat needs "stretching" one or two hard cooked eggs can be diced and added. Almond bars are delicious with afternoon tea.

ALMOND BARS

One-third cup butter, 1-3 cup granulated sugar, 2 eggs, 3 tablespoons milk, 1/4 cups flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder.

Cream butter and gradually beat in sugar. Beat yolks of eggs with milk and add to first mixture. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder and cut into first on a lightly floured molding board mixture. Mix thoroughly and roll into a sheet about one-fourth inch thick. Fit into square or oblong pans and fold and flute edge as for a pie. Fill with whites of eggs beaten until stiff and dry with 1 cup granulated sugar, 1 cup blanched and shredded almonds and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Sift sugar over the top and bake twelve minutes in a moderately hot oven. Let cool, cut in inch strips and remove from pan.

MOTHER MUST TRAIN CHILD TO BE ALONE

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

1928 by NEA Service, Inc. Biologists, psychiatrists and psychologists are discovering more things each day about children.

Theories are advanced, tried out and discarded. But the one thing that they all seem to agree upon, is that too much mother is not good for children.

A child to be perfect according to the newest theory, should have, not one mother, but several. These "mothers" should rotate, each being able to give the child one thing in which she is scientifically perfect.

In this way the child will have no dependency—no complexes, no inhibition, no mother fixation; the latter we are told, is about the worst thing that can happen to anybody.

I am on the side of these learned gentlemen to this extent—that I am convinced a good many misguided mothers are ruining children by kindness and weakening day by day their ability to depend on themselves or to be happy anywhere out of their mother's sight.

We all know the mother who has to resort to tricks to get out of the house if she has an errand or a day's shopping to do, or wishes to go to a party.

Indeed we even know the mother who won't go out at all unless she can take Betty or Tommy along. She trusts no one and refuses even a temporary separation from her offspring.

MOTHERS BLAMELESS

Now these mothers are not to blame. Their intentions are the finest in the world. But somewhere in generations past someone gave out the idea that a little child didn't thrive quite so well out of his mother's company, even for short periods. She also believes that Betty or Tommy love her so well that she can't bear to make them suffer, even for an hour or two.

I shall try to break the news gently to these ladies that the reason their children scream themselves blue in the face when they see her put her hat on, is about one part love to ten parts anger that their comfort is going to be interrupted.

"Mother" is associated with contentment and comfort just as the man in the gray uniform associates himself in their minds with letters.

Tommy wants her there so he can get at her if he needs her. He wants her there to think for him; he likes to know that somebody is around to whom he comes first; he wants someone to be ready to kiss the sore place if he gets hurt; he wants petting.

If she goes away all this is interrupted. He has to come second for a little while with somebody else—or even third. He knows he is not as important to anybody else as he is to his mother.

Every mother should accustom her children to the sight of her leaving them when necessary. It is understood, of course, that she provides for their safety and comfort while she is gone.

ETHEL

THE YOUNG IDEA!

THE TINYMITES

By Hal Cochran

READ THE STORY. THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

THE Tinymites, at break of day, still traveled in their funny sleigh. The sun peeked over a hilltop, and found Scouty wide awake. The other Tinies were sleeping sound, despite the bumping over the ground. Then Scouty thought, "I'll wake them if I can of noise I make."

"Hey! Hey!" he cried. "'Tis time to rise. Come on there, open up your eyes. I've driven for an hour or so. I'd like to rest a while. Our deer's as frisky as can be. At times he's most too much for me." By this time all the rest sat up, which made tired Scouty smile.

Then Coppy said, "Who'd like to eat? In this small box I have a treat." He held the small box in his hand. "What's in it?" Carpy cried. "Some crackers," came the quick reply. "A sight that's pleasing to my eye." The box was opened wide and several hands were soon inside.

'Twas Clowny's turn to drive a bit, and so he jumped and said, "I'll sit up forward in our little boat, a driver brave and bold." They rode along, first fast, then slow, and soon they reached some ice and snow. "We must be 'way up north," said one. "It's getting very cold."

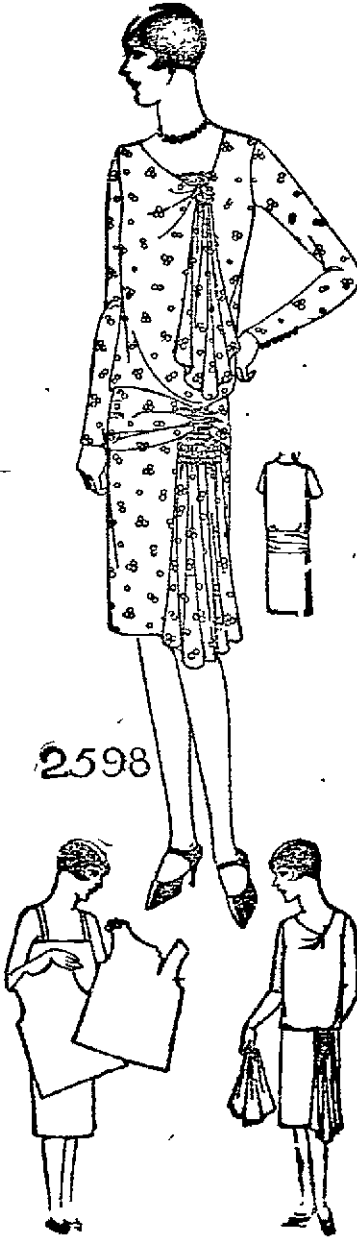

Once in the snowdrifts, Mister Deer, seemed all pepped up and full of cheer. He jumped and dashed quite frantically, and then began to race. "Say, hold him tighter," Scouty cried, "or he will end this lovely ride. Don't let him break away because he runs too fast to chase."

This kindly warning came too late. The Tinies met a funny fate. The little deer rose in the air and jerked with all his might. The boat flopped, with a sudden sweep, and as the bunch lit in a heap of snow they saw the frisky deer run quickly out of sight.

(The Tinymites meet an Eskimo in the next story.)

Buckles Trim

YOUTHFUL EFFECT

The fullness in skirt is cleverly manipulated to achieve uneven hemline. It is designed in three sections, with the left-front shaped to give dipping side effect, and shirred at upper part to secure flat hipline. The three-cornered neckline with jabot frill is notched so as to draw into a sunburst ripple. The full giraffe swashes the figure. Style No. 2598 chooses printed velvet in a novel dot pattern in soft green and beige tones. The only trimming required are rhinestone buckles at neckline and waistline, and rhinestone buttons that decorate long, tight-fitting sleeves. The pattern for this attractive dress can be had in sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52, 54, 56, 58, 60, 62, 64, 66, 68, 70, 72, 74, 76, 78, 80, 82, 84, 86, 88, 90, 92, 94, 96, 98, 100.

Household Hints

FIRE-PLACE PAN

If cleaning the fireplace has such a chore you shrink from having fires often, why not measure it and have a pan made to catch the ashes. They can be made inexpensively at foundries, of tin or even brass, with the back and sides two inches high and the front open so they will scarcely show.

PLASTER PROTESTOR

To keep the plaster from cracking, when you drive a nail into the wall, dip the nail first into very hot water and hammer it in while hot and still wet.

CLEAN FUR

If the collar of your fur coat soils your neck, try the following cleaning process. Heat bran in a saucepan, stirring it well so it will not burn. Rub while warm into the fur collar. Shake well and rub more until the last bran comes out clean. Shake and air the coat.

Fashion Plaques

HAIR that is not quite long enough to allow the turning under of ends, can be caught at the base of the head with a comb and brushed up into a fan to simulate a chignon.

PATH TO THE GRAVE IS NOT SO GLORIOUS

Clay City, Indiana—Although poets have eulogized the path of glory that leads but to the grave, experience has proved that it is not always so glorious. That was the lesson taught to Earl Coon, of this town. His path was a well-trodden habit, and how glorious he found it he tells as follows:

The Joy-killers

Usually it's the little ills of life, rather than the big ones, that shatter happiness. Sleeplessness, nervousness, indigestion—things like these can utterly destroy one's zest for living—can turn a perfectly healthy being into a gloomy, touchy dyspeptic. Yet so often the cause of the whole trouble lies in one mealtime indiscretion—the habitual use of caffeine.

Eliminate caffeine beverages from your diet—drink Postum with your meals for thirty days! See how much better you feel, how much better you sleep, how much better you eat. Decide then whether you will ever again allow caffeine to take its toll of your happiness!

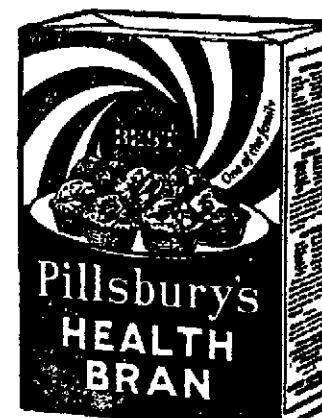

Goodbye, indigestion!

"After quitting caffeine, only a day passed until I found Postum. I had to have a hot drink; I found it. Not a caffeine substitute but a real individual drink, progressing on its own merits. For eight years I have drunk Postum. I am no longer nervous and the only thing that disturbs my slumbers is the alarm clock at six in the morning. And I am ready to work for I get my rest—all of it."

"The indigestion went with the caffeine. No more sour stomach, thanks to Postum. Postum is a friend to civilization; a solution to the person seeking to solve the problem of ill health caused by the use of caffeine beverages."

Here's the kind of bran that doctors recommend!

93% of the thousands of doctors who answered our questions said that natural 100% bran is the best form of bran for the relief of constipation. When you buy bran be sure to get this kind. Pillsbury's Health Bran is natural 100% bran, nothing added, nothing taken away. You can use it in all sorts of delicious foods—there are 13 good recipes on every package. For best results eat it in some way every day—bran muffins made according to the Pillsbury recipe are particularly effective—and unusually delicious!

SCARF LOOPS

Even Even the ten cent stores now carry scarf loops through which kerchiefs can be slipped so they won't have to be knotted. Some more expensive ones include lovely carved amber one that quantity represents two hands clasped together.

YOUTHFUL CHIC

Following the old fairy description of "blue jacket, red cap and white owl's feather," a new skating outfit has just that. The jacket is camel's hair, the cap a red beret with a cute little white feather jauntily stuck through it. A pleated red skirt completes the outfit.

Moore, Mrs. Homer Benton, Mrs. Kenneth Corbett, and Mrs. August Arens. Among the out-of-town guests was Mrs. E. J. Wheeler of Milwaukee.

Harold Miller spent Tuesday at Little Suamico on business.

MUSIC SORORITY GIVES RECITAL AT PEABODY HALL

Pi chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary musical sorority, was presented in recital at Peabody hall Tuesday evening.

The program opened with two vocal numbers, In My Garden by Loud and Pleurez! Pleurez, mes yeux by Massenet, by Madge Maesch. Both numbers were skillfully executed, as was the group of songs by Lucille Austin, who sang The Beaming Eyes by MacDowell, Flower in the Crannied Wall by Mason and At Morning by Boyd. A cello number, Concerto in A minor, Opus 14 by Golttermann, by Miss Grace O'Neil and two violin numbers, Larghetto by Handel and Serenade Toigane by Baldez, by Miss Roberta Lanouette, were sympathetically interpreted and received with much enthusiasm by the audience. Miss Evalene Bell's presentation of Impromptu by Faure was exceedingly well done.

A group of songs by a trio composed of Madge Maesch, Misses Katherine Schmeltz and Dora Elin fittingly closed the well-balanced program. In an artistic manner, they sang Nymphs and Mauns by Benberg; Mah Lindy Lou by Strickland and Sparkling Sunlight by Arditi.

Accompanists for the performance were Misses Lucille Nelson and Elizabeth Thompson.

BENEFIT GROUP PICKS OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR

Officers were elected at the meeting of the Women's Benefit association Tuesday night at Appleton women's club. They were: President, Doris Lundquist; vice president, Amy Hoffman; acting past president, Katherine Kohl; recording secretary, Rosella Kobussen; treasurer, Matilda West; financial secretary, Rose Brown; sergeant, Helen Kobussen; chaplain, Kate Leith; inner losses, Mrs. H. Poppe; outer hostess, Emily Zwicker; junior supervisor, Rosella Kobussen. Mrs. Katherine McGregor of Neenah, district deputy, was the installing officer. Mrs. Lundquist will serve as president for the second term this year.

Fifteen members were present. A Christmas party will be given Tuesday night, Dec. 18, at Appleton Women's club. A sick committee was appointed, members of which are Mrs. Kate Leith, Mrs. Viola Post and Mrs. Helen Kobussen.

CLUB MEETINGS

Mrs. Frank Schreiter, W. Lawrence-st., was hostess to the Twilight Eight club Monday night at her home. Prizes at bridge were won by Mrs. John Burke, Mrs. Frank Schreiter and Mrs. Michael Kerrigan. Mrs. William Tierney, 732 W. Lawrence-st., will entertain the club next Monday night.

FOUR JUNIOR STUDENTS ON HONOR LIST

Two Receive Special Merits and Two Are Placed on Honor Roll

Kaukauna—Two Junior high school students received special merits and two others placed on the honor roll for the last six weeks of school work. This is a big decrease in the list from last month when a large number made the honor list. Those receiving special merits are Milton Rohm and Miss Margaret Hoehne of the seventh grade. Honor students with an average above 90 are Miss Dorothy Look of the seventh grade and Miss Lorraine, Frank of the eighth grade.

Thirty-seven junior high students have a perfect attendance record for the first nine weeks of school. They were neither tardy nor absent during that time. Nineteen of them are from the eighth grade and 18 from the seventh grade. TOWN BOARD VOTES HUGE TAX INCREASE

Levy Will Reach Total of $20,713 Compared to $12,148 Year Ago

Forest Junction—Levying a 2 1/2 mill tax on the assessed valuation of the township of $2,743,940, the Brillion town board effected an approximate $8,000 increase in local taxes for 1928, at its December session at the town hall here on Tuesday.

With a 2 mill highway tax, a tax of $1,000 for incidental purposes, and a similar amount for bridges and culverts voted by the annual meeting last spring, and high school tuition claims aggregating $3,022.15, the levy for town purposes this year will reach a total of $20,713.32, as compared to $12,148.34 a year ago. Increase in high school tuition by more than $1,000, a Brown-co line grading project at over $700, the purchase of a heavy grader at nearly $150, a drainage project at over $200, stone crusher repairs at nearly $300, poor relief at $200 and a safe-cabin at $550 are among special items this year chiefly responsible for the increased levy. While no special projects for snow removal were voted by the board Tuesday, a reasonable amount of money is being reserved for possible needs.

The county clerk's apportionment of charges against the town show a decrease in state taxes from $1,508.04 in 1927 to $1,381.35; an increase from $13,999.50 to $13,889.33 in county taxes; a decrease from $1,916.75 to $1,815.75 in county school taxes; and an increase from $9.92 to $163.20 in state trust fund loans, chargeable to joint district 2, Brillion and Holland.

Somewhat over 50 claims against the town were audited and allowed by the board at its Tuesday session. Other business disposed of included the cancellation of town treasury orders previously issued, the assignment of a lot in the north town cemetery, and unfavorable action on a proposal to extend to April 1 a workmen's liability insurance policy covering the calendar year.

BLAMES SIN FOR MORE SICKNESS

Only Genuine Cure Is Stronger Belief in Christ, Pastor Points Out

Sickness is increasing in the world because of increasing sin, the Rev. Epno Duemling, institutional missionary of Milwaukee, told about 250 people in Mount Olive church Tuesday evening. The Rev. Duemling also recounted his experiences with inmates of state prison at Waupun where he served as missionary for 19 years. He also served as missionary in other similar institutions.

He outlined methods and spirit in which people should visit those who are afflicted. Tact should always be used, and the condition and temperament of the person taken into consideration, he pointed out.

It has been proved that increasing sickness is due to the living conditions in communities, the speaker stated. People living centuries ago when air was clean and wholesome, knew no contagious or social diseases. Science has done much to help fight the spread of disease, but the only genuine and positive cure for the world is a stronger faith in Jesus Christ, who came into this world to redeem those who are lost, the Rev. Duemling declared.

ANNUAL MEETING HELD BY CENTER CHURCH

Election of officers of St. John Lutheran church in the town of Center was held at the annual meeting of members at the church Monday morning. A brief church service, with the Rev. Arthur Werner, pastor, in charge, preceded the business session. New officers are: Frank Schroeder, president; Henry Lilje, vice president; Walter Techlin, treasurer; Alvin Tiedt, secretary. William Timm and Fred Wagner are trustees whose terms did not expire. Two new members were admitted to the congregation. About 50 were present at the meeting.

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain. All Druggists.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c, 50c, 60c. Adv.

"SOMEONE TO LOVE"

Enthusiastic applause will greet Charles (Buddy) Rogers' second starring picture, "Someone to Love," when it opens its local run at Fischer's Appleton theatre Thursday and Friday. Hundreds who had seen his first picture, "Varsity," were on hand for this second enjoyable performance in which Mary Brian does some excellent work in support of the young star.

"Someone to Love," is a fast-moving story with many entertainment angles included in its cast, its direction and its photography. The appealing personality of Paramount's newest star, the winning portrayal of Mary Brian, the enjoyable comedy provided by an intangible pair, William Austin and Jack Oakie and

COST OF DYING IS RISING, COUNCIL COMMITTEE FINDS

The cost of dying comes mighty high, nowadays. At least that's what the city council finance committee decided Monday afternoon in an impromptu discussion as it allowed regular bills and transacted routine business preparatory to the council meeting Wednesday night. Among the bills presented were several from the poor department for burying city charges. A short discussion revealed the opinion that it is costing more every year to be buried.

POPE'S BIRTHPLACE NOW IS ITALIAN ORPHANAGE

Desio, Italy.—(AP)—The humble house in this township which was Pope Pius XI's birthplace is now being used as an orphan asylum. The asylum's chapel has been installed in the very room in which the present reigning pontiff first saw light of day. The building has been visited by numerous pilgrims during the past summer and autumn, not only those from the region about here, but from the entire Milan diocese and from all of Italy as well. Recently Cardinal Tosi, successor of Pope Pius as archbishop of Milan, solemnly consecrated the edifice and administered confirmation to the orphans of the countryside who have been afforded refuge and education within its walls.

POSTPONE MEETING OF POOR COMMITTEE

Due to the fact that there are only three applications for old age pensions on file, the meeting of the poor committee, scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, has been postponed until Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 12. At that time the committee also will act on applications for mother's pensions.

John L. Parks, Guard, Named Captain Of Badger Gridders

AWARD 27 GRIDDERS FOOTBALL LETTERS AT ANNUAL BANQUET

Members of Second Team Are Given Monograms for Work

Madison —(P)—John L. Parks, Muskegon, Okla., will be captain of the 1929 University of Wisconsin football eleven. Twenty-five of his mates so decreed Tuesday night at the election held before the annual banquet tendered the football squad by the Madison Association of Commerce. Parks will succeed Rube Wagner, of St. Paul.

The new Badger gridiron leader has had a varied collegiate career—a career in which perseverance has won out. Coming to Madison from his Oklahoma home, Parks arrived without knowing a person. He obtained a job at the state capitol in the office of the oil inspector where he worked spare hours. At the same time he reported for freshman football and was named captain by the yearlings. He also won a place on the freshman crew and rowed in the annual Poughkeepsie regatta in 1928.

Parks faced stern competition in his sophomore year, but he won a place on Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite's varsity eleven. The season which just closed, found Parks at his best and with Rube Wagner at his side at tackle, he helped to make the side of the line a formidable one.

Parks is earning his way through school as waiter at a local fraternity house, selling dance programs and holiday cards, and soliciting fraternity funds for punch, which he prepares for the guests. According to his instructors, the new Badger captain came to Wisconsin with a mediocre high school training, but has "buckled down" mentally and now is held a good student. He is a member of the Alpha Delta Phi social fraternity.

With the election of captain, letter winners also were announced, 27 major awards and a like number of minor letters being awarded by the athletic council.

The following received the varsity "W": August Backus, Milwaukee; Ken Bartholomew, Dayton, O.; Samuel Rehr, Rockford, Ill.; Stanley E. Blinsh, Green Bay; George Casey, Chicago; Gordon R. Connor, Madison; Clifford B. Conry, Janesville; Frank Cuisinier, Chicago; James Davies, Milwaukee; Milton Garten, La Crosse; William Kietelaar, Delavan; Joseph Kresky, Marinette; Jack Linden, Madison; Milo Lubratsch, Duluth, Minn.; William Lusby, Chicago; Arthur W. Mansfield, Cleveland, O.; Chester Miller, Antigo; John L. Parks, Muskegon, Okla.; Harold Rehholz, Portage; Gene H. Rose, Racine; Harold Smith, Milwaukee; Louis Smith, Prospect; Capt. Rube Wagner, St. Paul, Minn.; Ebert O. Warren, Akron, O.; Tury Oman, Chisholm, Minn.; A. B. Price, Prescott; and Kendall Cady, Green Bay.

Those who received the minor monogram are: Nobel Cooksey, Chisholm, Tex.; Homer Davidson, Detroit, Mich.; Arthur Frisch, Chisholm, Minn.; Charles Horwitz, Milwaukee; Gilbert Rottman, Milwaukee; William C. Sheehan, Portage; Lawrence Shomaker, Herrin, Ill.; Kittell J. Smith, Arcanum, O.; Roger Stevens, Kenosha; Edgar Ziese, Milwaukee; Neil Hayes, Mooseheart, Ill.; L. Ahlberg, Joliet, Ill.; L. M. Borster, Wauwatosa; John Kowalsky, Chicago; Don C. Dunaway, Racine; Don Hulteen, Marinette; G. A. Czerwinski, Chicago; James E. H. Schuch, Milwaukee; John McKaskle, Oshkosh, manager; Herman McKaskle, England, Ark.; Robert Oberdorfer, Milwaukee; William Eaglehorn, Detroit, Mich.; Dan Nelson, Chicago; R. P. Ritter, Milwaukee; and Kenneth Pinegar, Marinette.

ELLEN DUNN TOPPLES 619 PINS TUESDAY NIGHT

Ellen Dunn, bowling with Elk Ladies teams Tuesday evening set a new high mark for women in Appleton to shoot at when she toppled 619 pins in three games. She hit 209 in the first game then boosted the mark to 212 for the second game but dropped to 188 in the third.

OH, OH, BASKETBALL OFFICIALS TO STOP RAZZING AT GAMES

Chicago —(P)—The right of basketball fans to razz the officials is slated for discard in the western conference.

Big Ten athletic directors and coaches have decided that booing and hissing must go and are ready to take drastic steps, if necessary, to stop jeering. Education will be tried first, and if that fails the crowds will be policed.

Booing and hissing of officials by spectators at basketball games last year reached the stage where athletic directors expressed fear for the existence of basketball as a Big Ten sport. The directors, at the last meeting, discussed the subject and asked the cooperation of the coaches.

Acting at the instigation of the directors the coaches last week decided upon a vigorous educational program to stamp out all unsportsmanlike conduct at games this year.

A. P. NAMES WAGNER ON MYTHICAL "11"

Kresky, Cuisinier and Lusby Named on Second Big Ten Team

Chicago —(P)—The hotly contested Western conference football race, in which nine well matched eleven participated, has been reflected in the all-conference team selected by the coaches, officials and writers for the Associated Press.

Eight schools place players on the first eleven and only Chicago, which wound up its most disastrous season without a Big Ten victory, failed to land a player on either the first or second teams.

Minnesota, the team that missed the conference championship by two one-point defeats, placed three of its stars on the first eleven while Indiana landed two. All other schools with the exception of Purdue and Chicago, had at least one man selected for the first eleven, and Purdue missed landing Ralph Welch by only three votes. Chuck Bennett of Indiana defeated the Bollermaker halfback out of first team honors.

The Gopher stars chosen for the first eleven were Freddy Horde, quarterback; Captain George Gibson, guard and Kenneth Haycraft, end; Bennett and Claire Randolph, center, were the two Hoosiers to make the honor team.

Most of the selections were close but the placing of Fester of Ohio State, Holmer of Northwestern, Pommering of Michigan, Horde and Gibson were almost unanimous. Because of his field generalship, kicking, passing, line smashing and open field running, Walter Holmer was favored for captain of the mythical team, although no captain was officially named.

The first and second team selections follow: First Team Pos. Second Team Fester, O. S. L. E. Tanner, Minn. Pommering, M. T. Schleusner, O. Wagner, W. L. G. Westra, Iowa Randolph, Ind. C. Brown, Iowa Gibson, Minn. H. C. Kresky, Wis. Nowack, Ill. RT Haycraft, Minn. QB Hutton, Purdue Horde, Minn. QB Crusier, Wis. Bennett, Ind. LHB Welch, Purdue Glassgow, Io. RHB Lusby, Wis. Holmer, No. FB McLain, Iowa

Other grid awards were to Alvin Krohn, Robert Packard, Dan Steinberg, Carl Voeckes and Kenneth Laird, all of Appleton, William Bickel, Oshkosh, Robert Rasmussen, Ashippun, Robert, Ellettsville, Ind. Bay, William, Morton, Marinette, Charles Vedder, Marshfield, Charles Barnes, Rockford, Ill., Ray Brussat, Milwaukee, Lynn Trankle, Bloomer, Wayne Vincent, Menominee, Gilbert St. Mitchell, Kaukauna, Paul Fischl, Manitowish, Harold Ehlert, Reedsburg, William "Hank" Johnston, Appleton, was given a manager's varsity letter.

Cross-country awards were given Captain Charles Wolf, Shorewood, Arthur Mueller, Wausau, Ray Manning, Appleton, Charles Bartsch, Kaukauna, Frank Jesse, Waupun, and Leo Solinger, manager, Appleton.

JIMMIE ZINN, K. C., GOES TO CLEVELAND

Owners Still Arguing About Draft at Minor League Meeting

By BRIAN BELL Associated Press Sports Writer Toronto, Ont. —(P)—Every indication pointed to defendant Wednesday of proposed amendments to the laws governing the draft or selection of baseball players for promotion from the minors to the majors.

Delegates to the annual convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues and sundry speeches on the subject in mind, but regarding the rout of partisans of unrestricted selection as assured presidents and managers of scores of minor league clubs turned to talk of trades. Few trades were made but many were discussed.

One major league club reached out for a minor league prospect when Billy Evans, business manager of the Cleveland club, closed with Kansas City for the purchase of Jimmie Zinn, a pitcher who had a trial with the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1922 but since then has been able to win more than 20 games each season. For Zinn Cleveland agreed to part with an unannounced sum of money and two players.

The national board of arbitration cleaned up a number of claims made by baseball players against clubs.

Twenty-Two Lawrence Men Receive Varsity "L"

Seven Appleton men are among the twenty-two varsity football men to receive Lawrence college "L" awards, according to the list made public Wednesday by Athletic Director A. C. Denney.

Five of the local boys were members of the grid squad, the sixth varsity grid manager. Awards to members of the hill and dale team also were announced Wednesday and two Appleton men are among the group.

Five of the men receiving football letters are seniors. They are Captain Ralph Barfell, Brawley, Cal., Fred Schauer, Hartford; Francis Bloomer, Appleton, Arthur Humphrey, New Richmond; and Bruce MacInnis, Milwaukee.

Other grid awards were to Alvin Krohn, Robert Packard, Dan Steinberg, Carl Voeckes and Kenneth Laird, all of Appleton, William Bickel, Oshkosh, Robert Rasmussen, Ashippun, Robert, Ellettsville, Ind. Bay, William, Morton, Marinette, Charles Vedder, Marshfield, Charles Barnes, Rockford, Ill., Ray Brussat, Milwaukee, Lynn Trankle, Bloomer, Wayne Vincent, Menominee, Gilbert St. Mitchell, Kaukauna, Paul Fischl, Manitowish, Harold Ehlert, Reedsburg, William "Hank" Johnston, Appleton, was given a manager's varsity letter.

NEENAH TEAM AND BANKERS WIN FIRST Y.M.C.A. CAGE GAMES

Next Round of First Weeks Play Are Carded for Saturday Night

Neenah Kimberly-Clark team and the Citizens National Bank five were winners in the initial games of the Y. M. C. A. Industrial League Tuesday evening at the local Y court. The next two games of the first week's play will be staged Saturday evening.

The Neenah papermakers took an early lead in their game against the Kimberly aggregation and had a 16 to 11 lead at the end of the half. Behnke, Zingler and K. Olson getting two baskets each and a couple free throws for good measure. Buck Le May with two baskets and Vic Gossen with one were the only points the Kimberly team could garner.

The score for the second half was 15 to 11 in favor of the Neenah team, four field goals by K. Olson counting heavily in the scoring. Buck Le May was the only Kimberly man to do any scoring. Personal fouls were numerous in the game, Smith and Zingler of the Neenah team being forced from the game, and Vander Zanden and Rod DuChane of the Kimberly team reporting early.

The Bankers played the Fox River team the score being 28 to 17 in favor of the former. At the end of the half the winners were leading by a 9 to 8 score, but spurted during the second half to count 20 points compared to 10 for the Fox River team. Tomorrow counted heaviest for the Fox River team with three baskets, while Herb Voecke was the big gun in the Bank attack with five baskets.

TROJAN AGAIN ASK GAME WITH RAMBLERS

Gwynn Wilson Leaves Wednesday to Confer with Knute Rockne

Los Angeles —(P)—Gwynn Wilson, general manager of the university of Southern California, was enroute Wednesday to South Bend, Ind., to confer with Coach Knute Rockne and Notre Dame officials regarding the 1929 football meeting of the two institutions.

Wilson's trip was made necessary by the hurried departure of the Notre Dame coach after Saturday's game here. It had been expected that details of next year's contest would be ironed out here this week, but Rockne received word that his small son, Jack, was ill and entrained immediately after the game.

Denial was made by Trojan officials Sunday night of the report that Notre Dame would not be on Southern California's 1929 schedule. The only question to be ironed out is the place where the game is to be played, they said. Southern California asks that the contest be played here, rather than in Chicago, where present plans call for it to be staged, as the Trojans have but one outstanding home game on their 1929 program—that with California.

IT'S JUST AN OPINION

Coach Bob Duffy of Dickinson considered the Pittsburgh eleven the strongest in the country this year.

and Bickel at tackles. Krohn however, would make a good guard for the first team as has been shown by his handling of the tackle position all fall, while Bickel isn't strong enough to last through an entire season's hard play.

SOME STARS OF "BIG SIX"

ASKED for an opinion on a representative team of the "Big Six" in the Missouri Valley area, Forrest C. Allen, athletic director of the University of Kansas, responded with the following team:

Ends—Churchill, Oklahoma; Hausser, Kansas.
Tackles—Lubbers, Iowa State; Broadstone, Nebraska.
Guards—McMullen, Nebraska; Shannon, Kansas.

Center—Pearson, Kansas Aggies.
Halfbacks—Howell, Nebraska; Mehrie, Missouri.
Fullback—Waldorf, Missouri.

SAID HE WAS TIMID

James J. Braddock, who insists upon being called just that way, rode a lot of western money to a fall when he knocked off Tuffy Griffiths in two rounds in Mr. Rickard's New York Garden.

In shelling Griffiths young Braddock also tossed Mr. Rickard for the loss of a couple of yards as his agents had told him that Griffiths was another Dempsey, the "young feller from nowhere" that Tex has been waiting for to work up into some more of those million-dollar gates.

If it had been another unknown who bumped off Griffiths the upset wouldn't have been so hard to take. But, while Braddock is an unknown in the west he is rather familiar to eastern fans, and he hasn't been known too favorably. He is a nice boy and has been a fair sort of a fighter, but for some reason, certainly not the fault of the fellow himself, he had come to be rated as a timid fighter.

Braddock may not be made over night for eastern customers as a Sackett is shown at the top with his eighteen-month-old daughter, Patricia Louise, and Metz is below with Ellen Jean, a six-month-old. Both are outstanding players of their team and should make the all-state selections this year.

SLIGHT CHANGES IN EAGLE STANDINGS

Ed Maley Hits 602 to Set High Series Score for the Evening

A slight change in team standings which only tightened up the pace resulted in the Eagle Bowling league Monday evening when the teams left the runways. On the early shift Gibson Goodyear Boys won two games from Sieberling Cords while Dietzens Dairies made a clean sweep of three games from Groth Short Shops.

Ed Maley a member of the Goodyear Boys hit 602 and took the high individual series honors for the evening. His scores were 220, 190 and 192. Fred Telg was high man for the Cords with a 509.

On the late shift the O. K. Taxis won two games from Koesters Sodas in a hotly contested match. Barney Welhouse led the onslaught with a 589 the result of 194, 160 and 235 scores. Oscar Kunitz followed with a 548 made possible by 192, 149 and 208 scores. Hy Strutz was leader for the Sodas with games of 164, 219 and 176 and a total of 559.

J. Hebele of the same squad hit 520 with games of 151, 201 and 168. Paul Sells Specials won three games from Dick's Five.

The schedule for next Monday evening calls for the Sieberling Cords battling Paul's Specials. Koesters's Sodas against Gibson Goodyear Boys on the early shift, and Groth Short Shop versus O. K. Taxis and Dietzen Dairies versus Dick's Five on the late shift.

MAYBE HE HAS ARRIVED

This isn't an odd for Griffiths. We had taken occasion recently to call him the most promising fighter in the country. Just as on one Saturday we called Carnegie Tech the greatest team of years, New York University the greatest during the following week and saw both of them knocked off.

Young Braddock is a good fighter. It may be that he has the makings of a very great fighter. He had the promise of a very great fighter three years ago, but he never seemed to pass the stage of promise. Perhaps he is just arriving.

It may be recalled that William Muldoon and Gene Tunney said two years ago that Braddock was the most promising young fellow in the heavy classes.

Jack Dempsey tried to hire him as a sparring partner when he was preparing for his second fight with Tunney and Braddock was about to accept.

"If you want to learn something by becoming a sparring partner, you go with Tunney," he said. "Dempsey would run you and you have too much promise for the future to be beaten up by a heartless fighter."

Hornsby Thinks Cubs Will Have Greatest Infield If--

They Buy Some Grass He's Raising on His Kentucky Farm

ST. LOUIS —"What do you think of the Chicago Cubs in 1929?" the ambitious interviewer shot at Rogers Hornsby when baseball's highest priced player was tracked down and interrupted at his chores on his big farm estate not far from the city.

It may not be necessary to recall that the man who was fired from St. Louis after he had won a pennant and a world series, sent on to New York and then to Boston, was sold to the Cubs recently for cash and players that may have reached the value of $250,000 or more.

Hornsby is celebrated for quick decisions and frank answers. When he has something to say he says it and he says just what he thinks. He hasn't been celebrated for a sense of humor, however. But he has one.

"What do I think of the Cubs?" he responded. "I'm not thinking this. I know it. The Cubs will have the finest infield and outfield in baseball—if they buy my grass."

Hornsby's farm is stocked with blooded horses, cattle, hogs and chickens, but all the pasture sections of the farm are not used to graze the stock. There are several acres devoted to the cultivation of the very finest grass, a commodity that Hornsby thinks has a great future market for use on golf courses, baseball diamonds, football fields and tennis courts.

With the exception of some expeditions into the scientific field of discovering how the ponies are going to finish (a pastime which he insists is no one's business but his own), Hornsby has been a very shrewd business man. He talked himself into the salary he thought he was worth when he was playing with the Cardinals and he also forced the owners to take him in as a stockholder. He became a 400,000-a-year man with the Giants and the Braves had to assume the same salary obligation. It is not known what the Cubs marked in on his new contract but the amount was certainly not less. It may have been more and it is understood that he was given a comfortable bonus for signing the new contract.

"I had to do a lot of heavy talking to Mr. Wrigley and Mr. Veeck," he said. "They're big business men and those men who are immensely wealthy like Mr. Wrigley have to be shown. But I think I have shown them."

"Was there any danger that you wouldn't sign the contract?" he was asked.

"What contract?" he retorted. "Your baseball contract."

"I wasn't talking about any baseball contract," he said. "We didn't talk two minutes about the baseball contract. The proposition I was talking about was to sell them my grass for the park. The ball players are the only ones who know what good grass means in handling balls or in saving the legs. And I think I convinced them that I am raising the best grass that grows."

"Hornsby spends a lot of his time on the farm with 'Little Raj,' his dogs and his livestock, but he gets his greatest kick driving a tractor and plowing up the field where the grass is being cultivated. He hasn't been away from the farm much and he considers the outdoor life of a farmer to be positively necessary for his chief profession."

"You can't realize how careful a ball player who wants to be a good batter has to be in nursing his eyes. I do practically no reading under artificial light and I try to remain outside as many hours as possible. The outdoor life, of course, is good for the body but it is a vital necessity to remove strain from the eyes. I live for baseball of course, but when I can't play baseball and I am out those months keeping myself fit for another season, I never have been sick. I never have had a headache and I never have felt badly in the morning. When you get used to it, it is a great life and I have discovered that it can be a profitable life."

"I know that I'm not going to last any longer than Ty Cobb did and when my active baseball days are over I want to have another business and there certainly is a great future in that grass. If you want to buy some I will make you a professional price."

REVIVE PLANS TO MOVE MONUMENT

Legion Commander Will Appear Before Committee to Consider Proposal

Plans for moving the Civil War monument on Soldier's sq. to the S. Cherry-st boulevard were revived Monday night at a meeting of Oney Johnston post of the American legion. James H. Balliet, post commander, was authorized to appoint a committee to go into the proposal in more detail.

The first move in this direction was started several months ago but met opposition from several sources. Interest then lagged and the proposition was almost forgotten. Plans are to have one of each of the boulevard sections a memorial to Civil, Spanish American, and World war veterans. Efforts also were started to rename the street Memorial-dr but plans for this move also have been laid aside for the time being.

The local post presented Clarence O. Baetz, last year's commander, with a past-commander's ring, the presentation being made by C. C. Baker, another past commander.

Harold Miller was appointed chairman of the legion's boy scout committee.

The high school band, under direction to E. C. Moore, played several numbers. A dinner for the executive committee, at which regular business was transacted, preceded the general post meeting.

CHAMBER WOULD BOOST POPULATION FIGURES

The state highway commission was approached Monday with regard to changes in population of Appleton noted on signboards at various entrances to the city when Kenneth Corbett, secretary of the chamber of commerce, wrote the board asking that changes be made soon. Mr. Corbett's letter informed the commission the present population figures were from the 1920 census and that since then the population has increased. He said a conservative estimate of the city's population would be 26,500.

ASK INCLUSION OF TWIN CITIES ON AIR ROUTE

A letter was addressed to W. Irving Glover, assistant post master general Tuesday asking that Neenah-Menasha be listed as an official airmail stop on the new route which begins Dec. 15, by Appleton chamber of commerce. Letters previously were addressed to Congressman George J. Schneider and Florian Lampert asking their aid in the move.

In asking that Neenah-Menasha be listed as an airmail stop, Kenneth Corbett, secretary of the chamber here, informed Mr. Glover that the local post is between the two cities, and that Appleton would like Neenah-Menasha's support in renting the airport as an air mail landing field.

At a recent dinner in London a large portion of beef was carried around the room by a procession of men, following the English flag.

LABOR COLLEGE TO RESUME WORK THURSDAY NIGHT

Public Meeting, at Which Enrollments Will be Accepted, Will Start Season

Appleton Labor college, inaugurated last year by the Appleton Trades and Labor council, will open its second season at 7:30 Thursday night with a public meeting at the senior high school, according to Sam
Sigman, secretary.

The general course, as outlined in last year's program, will be followed again, although there will be no repetition of work for those enrolled in the college last year. Courses in public speaking and parliamentary law will be particularly stressed.
Eliabert Heibie, principal of the high school, has been engaged as instructor.

Besides a short talk by Mr. Heibie, other speakers and several musical numbers are listed on the program for the Thursday night meeting, according to Mr. Sigman.
Enrollments in the college will be accepted after the meeting.

Enrollments will not be limited to members of the Trades and Labor council. Laboring men in this vicinity not associated with the council will be admitted; in fact their presence will be welcome, Mr. Sigman announced. Officers of the college as well as the instructor will take enrollments.

The college term will be divided into two semesters of eight weeks each. An enrollment fee of $2 per semester will be charged.

Officers of the Labor college are:
President, Adolph Guyer, secretary, Sam Sigman, treasurer, Carl Ahl. In addition to the officers, the board of trustees consists of Fred Wiese and
R. Duffner.

No classes will be held Thursday night, although they will start the following week. The program and purpose of the college will be outlined by Mr. Heibie and other or-

BUILDING PERMIT IS APPROVED BY BOARD

George Hoelzel, 610 W. Lawrence-st, was granted a building permit by the zoning board of appeals Monday evening at the city hall, while the petition of Ganzen Sign company to erect signs on E. Wisconsin-ave was laid over until the next meeting.

Mr. Hoelzel asked to build an addition to a building used as a garage but which would not conform to the side yard regulations of the city zone law. Mr. Ganzen's request was to erect signs on E. Wisconsin-ave in the residential district.

STATE COMMERCE GROUP IN HANDS OF COMMITTEE

Kenosha (AP)—Completion of details for the organization of a state chamber of commerce was left to a committee of 10, when representatives of many chambers of commerce of Wisconsin cities, called by the Kenosha Chamber of Commerce, met in a final session Monday.

Committee members will be appointed by R. S. Kingsley, president of the local chamber of commerce and chairman of the meeting. The committee is empowered to call another organization meeting and set the date. Madison, Racine and Kenosha extended invitations for the next meeting.

WINTER COATS REDUCED

EARLY DECEMBER brings an event of interest to women who are waiting to buy their winter coats at especially low prices. Pettibone's reductions on fur-trimmed cloth coats are drastic; even the highest priced and finest models are now within the budget of every woman. There is a complete size range and the colors that are acknowledged to be smartest this winter are here in every fashionable shade and variation.

Each coat in this sale is smartly styled, is trimmed with furs of superior quality, was an excellent value at its original price and is very well worth your attention at this special reduced price. Come in early tomorrow and choose your new winter coat while you may have the best selection.

Finer Furred Coats

A small group but such values! Coats that were formerly as much as $165 are now on sale at $115. These are the models that all women want—rich fabric, beautiful furs, lovely silk linings. They are different from lower priced coats in quality, workmanship, smart detail.

Velvet and the soft-surfaced cloths are used in these finer coats, in such shades as black, winter beige, marine blue and brown. Deep fur collars, cuffs, and in some cases a long band of fur to the bottom of the coat.

Furred with eclipse wolf, gray wolf, badger, natural lynx, civet cat and black fox. They are exceptional at $115. Don't miss this group; it contains the very coat you have been wanting.

Formerly Priced at $165, $150, $145

NOW $115

A Special Lot of Coats at $39.50

Both sports and dress coats in a wide array of styles, colors and fur trimmings and every one a value of importance. Immense fur collars that fit snugly at the neck are as comfortable as they are smart. Brown, marine blue, tan, black, green and a few mixtures offer a range of choice in colors. Vienna fox, caracul, Mendoza beaver, American opossum, kit fox, raccoon and wolf are used lavishly. Early in the season these coats would have cost far more. Now the thrifty shopper may buy one for $39.50.

Fur Trimmed Coats, $89.50

$135 coats for $89.50—a tremendous saving. This coat group contains coats formerly $135, $125 and $115. You will find wondrous collars and cuffs of caracul, kimmer, wolf, marmink, cub bear and Persian paw.
The fabrics are black, autumn brown, shagbark tan, and marine blue. Any coat from this group would make the most acceptable of gifts this Christmas season.

A Group of Coats Formerly $98.50 and $79.50

$68

A Small Lot of Coats Formerly $29.50 $35, $39.50

$25

Baby seal and caracul, ringtail and marten, civet cat and raccoon, wolf and cub bear—all the smartest furs used in the newest ways. Many of the season's greatest successes are shown in this group. Line, workmanship, fabric, furs are all exceptionally fine. Coats that were $79.50 and $98.50 are now reduced to $68.

Real values! Coats formerly priced to $39.50 at only $25. They are smartly styled, generously furred, desirable in every way to the woman who wishes an inexpensive coat. Warmly lined for cold weather wearing. This group contains a comparatively small number of coats, but if your size is here it will pay to make a special trip down town to see them.

"Famous First Ladies"

President Wilson broke a White House custom when he refused to have the body of Mrs. Wilson held in state. The body was placed on a divan in Mrs. Wilson's bedroom. For two nights the president sat alone at her side. Then the body was placed in the East Room and shortly after the funeral party departed for Georgia.

It was in the following spring, about half a year later when President Wilson met Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt, who was to be his second wife.

Mrs. Galt called at the White House to visit a Miss Bones, who had been ill. The president often had tea with her after these visits.

Friendship soon became love. In 1915 the summer White House was Winston Churchill's home at Cornish, N. H. Mrs. Galt and Miss Bones arrived soon after the president had taken his quarters there. Often after dinner, the president and Mrs. Galt would walk hand in hand in the moonlight, like youthful sweethearts. They were married December 18. (To Be Continued)

FIRE TRUCK CHIEF TOPIC FOR COUNCIL

General Overhauling and Necessary Repairs Discussed at Meeting

New London—Needed repairs and a general overhauling of the fire truck was the subject of part of Tuesday evening's discussion at the meeting of the common council at the city hall. Fire Chief Dean stated that two of the pistons of the engine were badly worn. The aldermen then agreed that repairing of the truck which would cost approximately $150 should be referred to the board of public works.

Alderman Laux asked for an explanation as to why it was necessary to overhaul and install new pistons so frequently on the truck. Mayor Wendlandt called upon Driver Nesbitt, who happened to be present, asking him to give his views on the matter. Mr. Nesbitt said that no doubt the motor was too small for the load it had to carry. Just then Mr. Nesbitt was forced to leave due to a fire alarm. Anthony J. Curran, a member of the department, was asked to put forth his views. He disagreed with Mr. Nesbitt's statement, saying that the pistons of the engine were never fitted in properly. It was brought out in his talk that pistons were scored during the recent run to Royalton.

About two years ago, he said, the engine was overhauled when the engine pistons were found scored, and since that time it has only traveled about 200 miles. Mr. Herres said he believed the installing of new pistons could be better done by local mechanics who would be interested in turning out a good job rather than by employees of the factory in which the truck was purchased. During the discussion it was brought out that most engine trouble developed in cold weather, and that at the present time the city might be seriously handicapped if the engine were not in good running order.

IN NEED OF REPAIRS
Alderman Parfitt said that he believed the truck should be immediately repaired, so that the department could help neighboring cities and rural communities if necessary. The neighboring towns would always be willing to help in case of emergency.

Two petitions were referred to the board of public works, one being for a garage permit, asked by Leo Schoenrock, the other from the New London Ice and Fuel company, to remove from the street and set back on their property a weighing scale. This scale at present is located near the corner of Wolf River-ave and Lawrence-st. This company which is erecting an office, wishes to extend their building close to the sidewalk than the council deemed advisable. It was agreed that the company should keep their property in line with nearby residences and buildings.

Milo Smith of the city poor committee, said that he had been approached by one of the city dependants, who asked for an increase of five dollars during the winter months. This was allowed by the aldermen. The allowing of routine bills and orders was attended to.

DISTRICT LIONS HOLD MEET AT CLINTONVILLE

New London—The Twenty-seventh district conference of Lion club officers, was entertained at luncheon by Clintonville Lions on Monday at Hotel Madison. The guests of the day, Rev. Shawano Postmaster In Address Before Lions

New London — "Is Our Civilization Safe?" was the question used as a topic for a talk before local Lions on Tuesday noon at the Elwood hotel, by Milton Stanley, postmaster and editor at Shawano. Mr. Stanley drew a picture of the manner in which problems were settled before the present state of civilization brought order and government. Two men, he told his listeners, discovered gold in California. The very human instincts of hate and jealousy crept into their dealings with the result that one man was killed by the other in a fight for the possession of the wealth within their reach.

Mr. Stanley stated his belief that the strength of the nation is not in its wealth or its progress, but rather in its abundance of faith. "We put our faith unavowedly," he affirmed, "in the engineer of the train upon which we ride, in the banker who handles the keys of our safe deposit boxes. It is a faith like that which brought Columbus safely to the realization of his ideals and dreams: the same belief that every man holds close in building up the foundations of a successful career."

MELLON SEES ROSY FUTURE FOR COUNTRY

Business for Year Ending June 30 Was 3 Per Cent Less Than Year Before

about 7 per cent while there was a slight decrease in the prices paid by farmers for their purchases, according to price data compiled by the United States Department of Agriculture. The advantage of this increase in average prices per unit produced was partly offset by a decrease in volume. As the net effect of these two forces, the estimated gross cash income from farm products increased in the fiscal or crop year of 1927-28 by $279,000,000 or 2.9 per cent as compared with the preceding crop year.

As to automobiles he says monthly figures indicate that a general decline which began in November, 1925 reached its lowest point in November, 1927, and that the year ended with June-July production nearly 35 per cent above the production of the same months of 1927. The total for the year, however, was 12 per cent below that of the previous year.

EXPORTS SHOW LOSS
Export trade, the secretary says, reached a total value of $4,877,000, a decrease of 1.8 per cent over the previous year while imports aggregated $4,145,000,000 a decrease of 2.5 per cent as compared to 1927.

In reviewing the financial situation Secretary Mellon calls attention that the gold stock of the United States decreased nearly $500,000,000 from the $4,600,000,000 on hand at the beginning of the year. The outward movement of gold, he says, had had a far reaching effect.

"It has contributed to the restoration and fortification of the gold basis for the currencies of various countries. It has influenced our credit situation and the policy of the Federal Reserve board."

"Between June 30, 1927, and June 30, 1928, there was an increase of more than $500,000,000 in the total amount of credit the Federal Reserve banks were called upon to provide, due largely to the unprecedented gold exports. The increase in Federal Reserve credit took the form of an increase in borrowing by members banks. Owing to the traditional reluctance of American banks to remain in debt and the policy of the Federal Reserve banks to discourage continuous indebtedness, the banks found themselves at the close of the year in a position to lend much less freely than a year previous."

RESERVE BOARD INFLUENCE
The secretary reviews the action of the Federal Reserve board in easing money rates in 1927 by purchasing securities in the open market which was followed by the outward movement of gold and a new low rate for money in August of that year.

"As it became apparent, first, that the objects of the policy originally adopted were being accomplished, and second, that speculation was growing, the policy was reversed," he says. "The purchasing of securities was stopped and more than $100,000,000 of securities were sold. Meantime discount rates were raised from 3 1/2 per cent to 4 per cent."

"However, the action taken early in the year unquestionably was not effective with reference to speculation, partly due to the activities of powerful groups of speculators and partly due to the fact that the public in general believed and acted as if prices of securities would indefinitely advance."

MRS. BARRY WILL PRESENT READINGS

Appleton Woman Will Appear on Safety School Conference Program

Mrs. Bertha Barry of the Appleton vocational school will give several readings at a banquet at the S. A. C. room, Neneah, at 6:15 Wednesday evening at the close of the Neneah-Menasha Safety school conference. Arthur Bouffier, itinerant coordinator of the pulp and paper industry at the local school, and Harry F. Menzel, safety school organizer, formerly associated with the local school, organized the twelfth conference which started Oct. 15. It is expected about 500 industrial workers will be present.

W. E. Hewitt of Oshkosh Normal school will give the address of the evening. George D. Barnes of the Gilbert Paper company is chairman of the committee in charge of the program. S. E. Crockett, director of the Neneah-Menasha vocational school will present diplomas to those finishing the course.

CAVENY COMPANY TO OFFER VARIED BILL

A varied program blending the arts of painting, sculpture, and music will be presented at Roosevelt Junior high school Wednesday evening by the Caveny company which appeared at Wilson Junior high school recently. J. Franklin Caveny, ex-editor of the Sketch Book of the Art Institute of Chicago, will draw pictures and do some clay modeling, and Marie Caveny and Pauline Caveny will furnish musical accompaniment. Several songs and dances will be sung, and Miss Woods will play while Mr. Caveny works with his crayons.

A CORRECTION!
Due to a mechanical error in Glondemans-Gage Co. adv. of Tuesday, Brown Pony Coats were quoted at 59c. The price should have been 55c.

Glee Club Opera Is Expensive Production

Monica Cooney and Robert Mueller will play the two leading roles in the high school glee club annual opera, "The Mikado," which will be given at Fischer's Appleton theatre Monday, Dec. 10. Miss Cooney will play the part of Yum-Yum, a maid of high rank in Japan who is betrothed to Ko-Ko, Lord High Executioner, and Mueller carries the role of Nanki-Poo, a wandering minstrel and son of the Mikado.

Miss Cooney, a junior in Appleton high school, took an active part in dramatics at St. Joseph academy, Green Bay, last year, and Mr. Mueller has played in high school operettas for two years and was a member of the cast of the junior class play last year.

The seat sale for the Mikado, which will be the largest and most expensive production ever staged by Appleton high school, will open Thursday at Bell's drug store. One hundred and twenty-five students will take part in the operetta, and specially dancings will be given by Miss Virginia Rosegood and David Tritt.

The production is being directed by Miss Ruth McKennan of the dramatic department, and Carl S. McKee, director of vocal music at the high school.

FOREMAN TRAINING CONFERENCE WILL START WEDNESDAY

Opening Discussion Will Be Held at Coated Paper Company Plant

The 1929 Foreman Training conference will get underway here at the Appleton Coated Paper company plant at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and the first discussion will deal with foremen's responsibilities, according to M. W. Smith, director, who has completed a series of conferences in Eau Claire, Wisconsin, and other northwestern Wisconsin cities.

Classes were scheduled to open at Kaukauna at the Thimbury Pulp and Paper company mills at 1:35 Wednesday afternoon, but were postponed to a later date because of the death of Jay O. Fosson, manager of the Kaukauna electric and water department.

The first classes in the valley were conducted Monday afternoon at Marinette, and classes at Green Bay opened Tuesday morning. Industrial plants included in the program are the M. and M. Bag company and the Victory Bag company, Marinette; Northern Paper mills, the Wisconsin Paper company, and the Fort Howard Paper company, Green Bay; Thimbury Pulp and Paper company, Combining Locks Paper company, Kaukauna; Interlake Pulp and Paper company, Appleton Coated Paper company, and the Fox River Paper company, Appleton; the Hardwood Products company, Kimberly Clark corporation, Neneah; and the Menasha Woodward company, Menasha.

SCHOOL GIRL HURT WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Annette Plank, 11, Unconscious for 19 Hours After Accident

Annette, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Plank, 430 W. Prospect-ave, was knocked down and seriously injured by a car driven by Mrs. Theodore Frank, 601 W. College-ave, about 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon on W. Lawrence-st in front of St. Joseph school.

Miss Plank and Ruth Kampas had started to cross the street when the Kampas girl saw the car approaching and shouted a warning to her companion who hesitated, and then starting running again. She was only about two feet from the sidewalk when the car struck and threw her on the walk.

Mrs. Frank stopped and took the girl to a doctor's office and later she was removed to a hospital. She remained unconscious until 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. She suffered a slight concussion of the brain, severe contusions to the scalp, lacerations of the face and left ear and lacerations to both legs. Her condition is not considered critical.

ENGINEER TO REPORT ON HEATING PLANT

W. F. Dolke, Chicago consulting engineer, will present a report on the proposed recamping of the Appleton vocational school heating plant, at a meeting of the school board of directors at 12:35 Thursday afternoon at the school. The meeting will open with dinner. Other routine business matters are to be discussed.

CHARGE MAN WITH THEFT OF GUN FROM EMPLOYER

Stanley Krygaski alias Krueger is in the county jail here awaiting arraignment in municipal court Wednesday afternoon on charges of stealing a Winchester rifle from William Wednt, town of Osborn, his former employer. Krygaski disappeared several weeks ago and with him went the gun. He was traced by Sheriff Otto Zuehlke to Tippler, Wis., and then to Chicago where he was arrested by the authorities there on the warrant issued here. He waived extradition and was brought back to Appleton Tuesday night by Walter Scherck, deputy sheriff.

THREATENS SUIT IF CITY WON'T HEAR HIS PLEA

Leading Roles

Monica Cooney

Robert Mueller

The city council will be informed Wednesday evening that the city will be made defendant in a court action if it refuses to order an investigation into the alleged vaccination of the family of Emory F. Krueger against his wishes. A communication to this effect was given to the city clerk Wednesday morning and will be presented to the council Wednesday evening.

Mr. Krueger's communication protests action of the council and board of health in refusing to hear his complaint about vaccinating his children "against my protest." He claims one child still is ill as result of the vaccination and if the council refuses to order an investigation "will seek damages in the court."

Members of the city health department staff said Wednesday morning that the Krueger home has been visited regularly since the children were vaccinated and that none of them is sick.

Health department officers also said Mr. Krueger was told his home would be quarantined if the children were not vaccinated, and that Mr. Krueger, rather than suffer loss of pay by being confined with his family went to the deputy health officer's office where he met Dr. F. P. Dehearty, city physician, and asked that the children be vaccinated.

Krueger then went to the doctor's office to wait until the vaccine was prepared from a drug store. Mrs. Krueger prepared the children for the vaccination, it is said.

COLD WAVE STRIKES CITY TUESDAY NIGHT

The coldest wave of the season struck this vicinity Tuesday evening and by 6 o'clock Wednesday morning the mercury had dropped to nine degrees above zero. Temperatures throughout the state ranged from 2 degrees below zero to 10 degrees above.

The frigid spell will be of short duration however, for the mercury is due for a rise, according to the predictions of the weatherman for the next 24 hours. The skies will be clear Wednesday night, but cloudy weather will prevail Thursday.

Winds are still in the northwest and are spreading the cold throughout the state. The mercury registered two degrees below zero in several northwestern Wisconsin cities. At 12 o'clock noon the mercury registered 12 degrees above zero here.

Health department officers also said Mr. Krueger was told his home would be quarantined if the children were not vaccinated, and that Mr. Krueger, rather than suffer loss of pay by being confined with his family went to the deputy health officer's office where he met Dr. F. P. Dehearty, city physician, and asked that the children be vaccinated.

Krueger then went to the doctor's office to wait until the vaccine was prepared from a drug store. Mrs. Krueger prepared the children for the vaccination, it is said.

COLD WAVE STRIKES CITY TUESDAY NIGHT

The coldest wave of the season struck this vicinity Tuesday evening and by 6 o'clock Wednesday morning the mercury had dropped to nine degrees above zero. Temperatures throughout the state ranged from 2 degrees below zero to 10 degrees above.

The frigid spell will be of short duration however, for the mercury is due for a rise, according to the predictions of the weatherman for the next 24 hours. The skies will be clear Wednesday night, but cloudy weather will prevail Thursday.

Winds are still in the northwest and are spreading the cold throughout the state. The mercury registered two degrees below zero in several northwestern Wisconsin cities. At 12 o'clock noon the mercury registered 12 degrees above zero here.

E. F. Krueger Demands Investigation into Vaccination of Family.

The city council will be informed Wednesday evening that the city will be made defendant in a court action if it refuses to order an investigation into the alleged vaccination of the family of Emory F. Krueger against his wishes. A communication to this effect was given to the city clerk Wednesday morning and will be presented to the council Wednesday evening.

Mr. Krueger's communication protests action of the council and board of health in refusing to hear his complaint about vaccinating his children "against my protest." He claims one child still is ill as result of the vaccination and if the council refuses to order an investigation "will seek damages in the court."

Members of the city health department staff said Wednesday morning that the Krueger home has been visited regularly since the children were vaccinated and that none of them is sick.

Health department officers also said Mr. Krueger was told his home would be quarantined if the children were not vaccinated, and that Mr. Krueger, rather than suffer loss of pay by being confined with his family went to the deputy health officer's office where he met Dr. F. Herman Wildhagen

Funeral services for Herman Wildhagen, prominent architect who died Monday afternoon, will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at Masonic Temple, with Dr. J. A. Holmes in charge. The body will lie in state at the Temple from 10 o'clock Thursday morning the time of the funeral.

Mr. Wildhagen was one of Appleton's most successful architects, and designed many buildings in this city. He was the architect for the senior high school, Lincoln and Franklin schools, the public library, Appleton Coated Paper company buildings, Fox River paper company building, Brett Schneider Furniture store, Schlafier Hardware company building, and the Hopfensperger meat market. Mr. Wildhagen also introduced in this vicinity, in the east and in Canada, the Kitchell process of cooking and bleaching pulp, which still is used.

BULLS IN CONTROL ON STOCK MARKET

Violent Fluctuations Recorded in Number of High Priced Specialties

New York—(AP)—Bullish tendencies again predominated at the opening of Wednesday's stock market. Adams Express jumped 18 points on the first sale on the announcement of the proposed formation of a new securities company by the three leading express companies. Radio opened with a block of 25,000 shares at 41 1/2, and a new high record. Greena Cananea opened 3 points higher and National Biscuit, Anaconda, Allied Chemical, Lambert and Associated Dry goods advanced a point or more.

Union Pacific dropped 3 points and Kennecott Copper and Warner Bros Pictures 1 each.

Violent fluctuations in a sprinkling of high priced specialties featured the early trading. Adams Express was quickly whirled upward 35 points to a new high at 42 1/2. Radio extended its gain to 7 1/2 points by touching a new top at 41 1/2 and National Ten soared 2 points to a new high at 38 1/2. Allis Chalmers and American Linsseed Preferred each advanced 2 points to new high records.

Foreign exchanges opened steady with Sterling Cables unchanged at $4.85 1/2.

Concurrent strength of Radio and Western Union during the forenoon gave rise to further rumors that a plan would shortly be announced for a combination of communications business of the two companies. Radio touched a new top at 42 1/2, up 12 1/2 while Western Union converted a 2-point loss to a 4-point gain. Allis Chalmers jumped 3 points to another new peak. Call converted a 2-point loss to a 12-point gain. For the first time since Nov. 12, 1920, which caused considerable liquidation, such investment issues as New York Central, American Telephone, Baltimore and Ohio, and

ROHAN'S NEW BOOK IS PLACED ON SALE IN APPLETON STORES

Our National Forests, by Local School Head, endorsed by Experts

First copies of Our Forests, National Problem, a book written by Ben J. Rohan superintendent of Appleton schools, was placed on Appleton book stands Tuesday. Mr. Rohan has spent considerable time and did much research in writing this book which is the first of an exploratory science series published by the C. C. Nelson Publishing company of Appleton.

Other of the series, which are to follow soon, are: "Our Food Supply," "Plant and Animal Neighbors," "Our Earth and Its Neighbors," "Mechanics," "Keeping Warm," "Chemistry as Man's Servant" and "Our Good Slave Electricity."

The series is designed as an exploratory science course suitable for junior high schools or for seven and eighth grades of rural schools.

C. O. Davis, professor of secondary education at the University of Michigan is the editor of the book. He is considered a national authority on junior high school education and he says of Mr. Rohan's book: "The volume is designed to develop in youth an appreciation of a wise conservation policy and it will aid the future generations in acquiring a vision of the steps necessary to solution of the reforestation problem."

S. T. Dana, dean of the school of forestry and conservation of the University of Michigan, has endorsed Mr. Rohan's work as a real service to humanity. He says: "Mr. Rohan performs a real service in calling attention to these facts. The service is doubly valuable because the material is presented in such form as to be suitable for school use. It is the young, rather than the old, generation to which this problem is of prime importance and it is for them to help in finding an adequate solution."

TRAFFIC STUDENTS STUDY LADING BILLS

Shipping orders and bills of lading were studied by persons enrolled in the chamber of commerce traffic study course at the regular weekly meeting of the group Monday evening. Roy C. West, traffic manager of the chamber, again was in charge of the class.

The study Monday evening impressed upon students the importance of the bill of lading and the way in which bills should be filled out. Copies of the straight bill of lading and of the uniform live stock contract were discussed.

WAR ON SMUGGLERS FROM OVER BORDER

"Powerful Combinations" in Canada and U. S. Reported Traffic

Washington —(AP)—Following the indictment at Buffalo, N. Y. by a federal grand jury of more than a score of Canadian distillers and brewers, the treasury department announced that "powerful combinations" were engaged in the smuggling traffic.

Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury, declared that the fight against Canadian liquor smugglers would be carried on until the practice was ended.

The investigations were said to be likely to involve not only other Canadian distillers but employees of

I had so many bad feelings at night that I could not sleep and for two years I was afraid of falling. My mother took the Vegetable Compound years ago with good results and now I am taking it during the Change of Life and recommending it."—Miss T. A. MILLER, 1811 Adams Street, Denver, Colorado.

HUNT U. S. BOOTLEGGERS

Buffalo, N. Y. —(AP)—Federal authorities Wednesday were endeavoring to locate several American bootleggers indicated by the federal grand jury here in connection with the government's move to stop the heavy flow of liquor from Canada into the United States.

Although 30 Canadians, many of them prominent in the liquor export business, were among those indicted for conspiracy to smuggle li-

FILM SHOWS HOW LONG POWER LINE WAS BUILT

A film showing the construction by the Wisconsin Michigan Power company of the 100-mile power line in northern Wisconsin and Michigan was presented at the meeting of Rotary club at Hotel Northern Tuesday noon. William E. Schubert of the power company gave a brief explanation of the picture.

Eleven members of the customs border patrol at Detroit who were arrested last week on charges of accepting bribes to permit liquor to pass into the United States from Canada are said to have confessed and to have given the inside details of the smugglers organization.

COST REDUCED Almost One-Third on Loans $10 to $300

The Household Finance Corporation, by reason of large volume of business, efficient management, and favorable credit facilities, attained after five years of operation, is now making a very substantial reduction in the cost of loans up to $300.

You can borrow from us for about one-third less than we formerly charged, and about one-third less than the maximum lawful rate. For example, total cost on $50 for one month is $1.35; for five months, paid in five equal monthly payments, is $3.75. All other amounts up to $300 at same proportionate rate.

If you have a loan elsewhere, let us explain our new reduced rate and tell you how much you will save by borrowing from us. You get the money without delay, return it in small monthly payments, arranged to suit your convenience. Each payment of principal reduces the interest.

No Endorsers. No one need know. Our service is personal and confidential. We do not notify your employer, neither do we make inquiries of your friends, relatives or tradespeople.

Loans made in Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Kaukauna, Kimberly, Little Chute and other nearby towns.
